Muny Bankruptcy Act Held Unconstitutional

ACTIONS OF TUGWELL HIT IN DECISION

New Deal Suffers Fresh
Rebuffs From Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—The new deal suffered fresh rebuffs today when actions of Rexford G. Tugwell, braintrustee, were condemned and the municipal bankruptcy act of 1934 was held unconstitutional.

Tugwell came under censure in a decision which remanded an attack by Kansas City commission men upon orders issued under the packers and stockyards act to the lower courts for further hearing.

The bankruptcy act was added to the growing list of legislation passed under new deal auspices which failed to survive the high court's constitutional tests.

The act had provided a means whereby municipalities and other governmental subdivisions could come to arrangements with their creditors concerning bonded indebtedness.

A slight victory for the administration was scored when the court refused to review an action testing one phase of the new deal's gold legislation, one of the few new deal acts to receive the court's blessing.

By implication the court's ruling was that foreigners who had gold in American banks at the time the gold laws were passed must surrender the metal to the treasury just as American citizens were forced to do.

The court recessed for one week without handing down its decision in an attack on the New York minimum wage law for women and children.

The bankruptcy act was stricken down by a 5 to 4 decision. The opinion was rendered in an attack made by the bondholders of Cameron county, Texas, drainage district No. 1.

It was anticipated that it would open to attack virtually all compositions of debt made by lesser government units under terms of the act since its passage in 1934.

SOCIALISTS REFUSE COMMUNIST ACCORD

PUBLIC HALL, CLEVELAND, May 25.—(UP)—The militant-controlled Socialist convention today shouted down a proposal for a joint Socialist-Communist presidential campaign.

The proposal was brought before the convention in a communication from Chairman William Z. Foster and General Secretary Earl Browder of the Communist party.

A resolution to kill the communication was presented by Maynard C. Krueger, youthful University of Chicago professor and a lieutenant to Norman Mattoon Thomas, twice the party's presidential nominee and probable selection this year.

"Socialists are Socialists and not Communists," Krueger shouted, "we believe that Socialists can be accomplished through the Socialist party and not through the Communist party."

JEWISH-ARABIAN CLASHES CONTINUE

JERUSALEM, May 25.—(UP)—Guerrilla warfare, result of long lasting Jewish-Arab disorders, was reported today from areas all over Palestine.

Attacks by Arabs on buses and on government forces, and attempts to cut telephone lines and bomb government buildings were reported.

Arabs in rowboats were reported to have bombed and fired on a Jewish ship arriving at Tel Aviv yesterday.

Armored cars, dispatches said, were sent today to the prison at Nurems in northern Palestine to repel an Arab mob reported to be attempting to release prisoners.

Two Arabs, wounded Saturday when police and troops returned fire from a mob, died today. Total known deaths in recent disorders are 25 Jews, 10 Arabs and two Arab policemen.

GETS $40,000

The Mexican divorce by which Charles Redfield Vose below, New York insurance broker, made possible his marriage to Valeria Huff (top), San Francisco society woman, will cost him $40,000 the balm awarded her in her successful annulment suit. She charged that Vose caused her to enter into a relation "other than honorable wedlock" since he was aware at the time of their marriage that the mail decree was invalid.

FOUR DROWN AS BOAT CAPSIZES

Man Clings to Sloop 24
Hours; Companions
Slip Into Lake

BELLE RIVER, Ont., May 5.—(UP)—A U. S. army plane flying over Lake St. Clair sighted an overturned boat with one man clinging to it. He had clung there 24 hours while one by one his four companions gave up the fight and slipped off to death.

The tragedy occurred 15 miles east of Detroit and one mile from the Canadian shore.

The party—made up of William Barlow, 25, Arnold Wolf, 33, Clifford McLeod, 30, Philip Brinkus, 27, and Elmer Reagan, 27, all employed in the same factory—set sail from Detroit in Barlow's 24-foot sloop at noon Saturday.

A mile off the Canadian shore a sudden squall flipped the sloop bottom-side up, dumping all five into the lake. They swam to the floating hulk and clung to it. They saw the shore, even saw persons on the beach, but no amount of shouting and waving attracted attention to their plight.

ARIZONA LOSES WATER FIGHT

REQUEST TO FILE APPEAL IS REJECTED

Supreme Court Turns Down
Plea to Fix Colorado
River Rights

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—The state of Arizona today was refused supreme court permission to file an original suit to have its rights in the Colorado river waters determined.

The state's application formed a new chapter in its fight over the Boulder canyon dam and was directed at its sister states in the Colorado river basin—California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming.

In 1930 Arizona, which had refused to ratify the Colorado river compact under which the Boulder dam project was undertaken, brought suit to enjoin its construction.

It lost on the grounds it had shown no immediate danger of injury.

Federal Workers Barred
Later, when construction of the Parker dam was begun, the state authorities barred federal workers from trespassing in Arizona soil. The United States brought suit to restrain this interference.

The present suit alleged that Arizona is threatened with having water to which it is entitled appropriated by its sister states. The suit asked that Arizona's rights be determined at once.

The decision was based chiefly on failure to name the United States a defendant.

The court said:

"Every right which Arizona asserts is so subordinate to and dependent upon the rights and the exercise of an authority asserted by the United States that no final determination of the one can be made without a determination of the extent of the other."

UNKNOWN "FIEND" BLAMED IN MURDER

NEW YORK, May 25.—(UP)—Attorneys for John Florenza blamed an unidentified "fiend" today for the rape and murder of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton.

They called the Countess Alice Hoyos of Hungary and two state employed psychiatrists to bolster the theory. Countess Hoyos, a young, blonde, vivacious woman, told police immediately after Mrs. Titterton was killed on Good Friday that a young man had twice annoyed her in the middle of preceding nights by rapping on her apartment door. The countess' apartment is two floors below that in which Mrs. Titterton, 34, author wife of a National Broadcasting company executive, was killed.

Florenza, 10 years younger than Mrs. Titterton, confessed he attacked her "because she was so exquisite" but his counsel contends he is insane and would have confessed anything.

Leeds And New Bride On Honeymoon Yacht Cruise

MIAMI, May 25.—(UP)—One of the world's richest young men and the daughter of an unemployed Pittsburgh steel worker were honeymooning in British West Indies waters aboard their yacht today after a wedding at sea.

The bridegroom is William B. Leeds and his bride met under circumstances that made the progress of a courtship easy.

Miss Hamilton, then 19, rowed out from a small boat docked at Atlantic City one day five months after Princess Xenia divorced Leeds, to view at close range the luxuries of a millionaire's yacht.

A passing motorboat swamped the rowboat. Leeds dived from his yacht and saved her.

The courtship began then and had continued for six years. Miss Hamilton had lived the last few years in New York. Friends of the couple had expected the wedding, but the young couple refused to set a date when they sailed from Miami.

ROME, May 25.—(UP)—It's "M" in Italy now, in the Napoleonic manner, instead of "Mussolini."

It was noted that Premier Benito Mussolini now is signing himself, "M." This imperial initial appeared as his signature at the end of his speech of May 9, announcing creation of a Fascist empire.

Safety Strap Cause Of Girl's Death

WORCESTER, Mass., May 25.—(UP)—For safety's sake, Walter A. Marchessault strapped his four-year-old daughter Lois inside an out-board motor launch before he, his wife and another couple went for a spin on Lake Quinsigamond.

The four adults were hurled from the boat when it suddenly capsized. They were rescued by a passing boat.

Little Lois, held under by the safety strap, was drowned.

Film Made As Slayer Acts Crime

CHICAGO, May 25.—(UP)—Motion picture cameras grinding ceaselessly during reenactment of the crime, today recorded Thomas Starr's "confession" of the murder of Mrs. Lillian D. Guild in a Y.W.C.A. hotel.

Starr, 29, Negro, admitted to officers that he climbed through a window into the widow's room, and slugged her with a blackjack. Officers, fearing he might retract his statements, induced him to reenact the crime before motion picture cameras.

Two cameramen followed the rag-picker to the hotel, grinding their machines as they went. Starr demonstrated how he awoke his victim and struck her on the head and body with the brick he carried in his pocket.

WARREN TIGHTENS
STATE GOP HOLD

DEL MONTE, Cal., May 25.—(UP)—State delegates to the Republican national convention today solidified Earl Warren's leadership of the party in California by electing him national committeeman to succeed Mark L. Requa.

Warren, Oakland attorney and chairman of the state central committee, led a group of uninstructed delegates, nominally pledged to him, to defeat an instructed Land delegation in the state presidential primaries this month.

Edith W. Vandewater, Long Beach, was named national committeewoman.

The delegates who will represent California Republicans at Cleveland next month, chose Chester H. Rowell, San Francisco publicist, chairman of the delegation. The delegation will not take a vote on any candidate before reaching Cleveland.

Uses Phonograph
Urging Medal For
Amelia Earhart

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—A phonograph was brought before a house coinage subcommittee by Rep. John H. Tolan, D. Calif., today to further his plea that a commemorative medal be awarded Amelia Earhart.

Tolan played the record which contained an account of Miss Earhart's casual remarks on landing at Oakland, Calif., after her flight from Honolulu last year.

"Are you tired?" she was asked. "No," she answered, "I know I look terrible—I got awfully dirty."

Tolan said Miss Earhart's ability, modesty and valor entitled her to the same kind of recognition given Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Thomas A. Edison and others.

Duce Signs Off
With Capital 'M'

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—The supreme court by implication today held that foreign holders of gold held in the United States by domestic banks at the time of the gold reserve act was enacted are obliged to surrender the metal to the government.

CONGRESSMAN DIES

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—Rep. Randolph Perkins, R. N. J., a member of congress since 1920, died in Georgetown hospital today.

Republicans Fighting Attempt To Railroad Tax Measure Through

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—Senate Republican leaders today were engaged in fighting an attempt to railroad the administration's new tax bill through the chamber by choking off debate in the rush toward congressional adjournment.

Passage of the almost-completed revenue bill generally was conceded by Republicans. Most forecasts were that it would reach a vote in three days after it is reported either tomorrow or Wednesday if action on the work relief measure does not hold it up.

"But we will not submit to any attempt to shut off open discussion," said Minority Leader Charles McNary, R. Ore. "We will insist on open discussion if it takes all summer."

The senate finance committee, putting final touches on the drastically-revised bill which they hope will meet the president's demand for $20,000,000 permanent and $517,000,000 temporary revenue, indicated that their work would be completed by Wednesday at the latest and possibly tomorrow.

Delay Is Seen
Chairman Pat Harrison, D. Miss., originally had hoped to report the bill to the senate this afternoon. He did not announce any definite change in his plans, but the work of boosting the total yield to the amount asked by the president appeared certain to delay completion of the bill for a day or two.

The bill as it now stands, with an 18 per cent flat corporate tax and a 7 per cent tax on undivided profits, falls $50,000,000 short of the permanent revenue asked and $417,000,000 short of the temporary levies asked over a three-year period.

But the committee expects to make up these deficits today or tomorrow by:

Putting a processing tax of 1-2 cents a pound on sugar to raise $85,000,000.

Eliminating the $40,000 exemption from estate and gift taxes on all estates or gifts of over $100,000 to raise perhaps $50,000,000.

Putting import excise taxes on several commodities such as coconut oil, certain starches and possibly others which would raise small sums. The starch tax, for instance, would raise around $7,000,000, it was estimated.

Tightening provisions of the present law against "unreasonable" accumulation of surpluses in holding companies. This is designed to plug tax evasion loopholes in the law governing personal holding companies.

Changing the law regarding liquidation of holding companies in an effort to draw out more money into the hands of wealthy individuals where it would be taxable at high rates.

Settle $10,000,000 Claim for $20,000

TULSA, Okla., May 25.—(UP)—The $10,000,000 claim of W. E. Page, former California dentist, against the huge oil estate of the late Charles Page was reported settled out of court today.

A confidential source close to the Sand Springs Home, Inc., interests, in which the bulk of the $25,000,000 estate was held, said the suit was settled at a figure approximating $20,000.

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—(UP)—The family of Fred Bartholomew, 12-year-old film star, may be reconciled and the question of his guardianship may be settled peacefully, Superior Judge Harry P. Archbald indicated today when he postponed until June 8 a hearing of the guardianship case.

The announcement came after a two-hour conference of contending attorneys, who met in the judge's chambers. It was the second time within a week that a settlement involving Freddie and his $1000 a week film earnings has been made.

Judge Archbald said Mrs. Lillian Mac Bartholomew, mother of the boy, is to be permitted to see him alone any reasonable time during the next two weeks.

Foreign Holders
Must Return Gold

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—The supreme court by implication today held that foreign holders of gold held in the United States by domestic banks at the time of the gold reserve act was enacted are obliged to surrender the metal to the government.

Another point added just before the call was sent to the two houses is a technical measure dealing with the standardization of tomatoes.

Assemblymen groaned as the list was read to them. Originally, Merriam intended to restrict the lawmakers to consideration of a measure designed to finance the dole before

TEST FOR CUPID

Apparently this blond prefers a gentleman—to a movie contract. After playing in one film, Terry Walker, former Miami night club singer, is reported to have asked temporary suspension of her contract so she could plan a "six-months' trial marriage" in New York. Name of her prospective husband was not disclosed.

SWIFT PENALTY DEMANDED FOR DR. TOWNSEND

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(UP)—House leaders today demanded swift punishment of Dr. Francis W. Townsend for contempt in refusing to testify before the old age pension investigation.

Speaker Joseph W. Byrns and Majority Leader William B. Bankhead, D. Ala., agreed Townsend's "walkout" action was open defiance of the house.

Their statements came as Chairman C. Jasper Bell, D. Mo., announced he would call his committee into executive session tomorrow to attempt to map a procedure method.

The committee has been in a dilemma, fearing any action it might take would put the 70-

CHARGE RACKET TO 'LORD' E. DESMOND

NEW YORK, May 25.—(UP)—"Lord" Edmund Desmond, whose claim to nobility has not been substantiated, was indicted today by the New York county grand jury in connection with the extortion racket which has been under investigation since Alfred E. Smith Jr. complained that he had been blackmailed.

Desmond was named in an indictment charging attempted extortion and the indictment also brought further charges against A. Henry Ross, Brooklyn lawyer, and Max D. Krone, private detective, who already are under indictment in connection with the Smith case.

Simultaneously, Assistant District Attorney Harold O. Hastings announced he may question Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, in the extortion investigation, perhaps tomorrow.

INFANT MORTALITY RATE CUT IN STATE

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—(UP)—The California infant mortality rate is less than 50 deaths per 1000 births for the first time in history, State Health Director Walter M. Hildicke reported today.

In 1935 the death rate was 49.5 per 1000 against 51.6 in 1934, he said. Infant deaths in those years totaled 3978 and 4947, respectively.

New Angeles county's rate was 43.6 in 1935 against 44.7 the year before.

For the white race the infant mortality rate last year was 32.5 per 1000; Mexican, 100.7; Negro, 62.5; Indian, 109.7; Chinese, 42.5; Japanese, 43.3; others, 115.2.

Assembly Tackles Relief Problem In Special Meet

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—(UP)—California's 51st legislature convened in special session today to consider a 14-point program dealing most with relief, old age pension and social security problems.

Gov. Frank E. Merriam at the time now and June 30. The inclusion of 13 other subjects opened the session to a wide amount of discussion and debate, and there was every indication the legislature would be here at least a week.

The legislature called to convene at 10 a. m. was nearly an hour late in starting, due to a rush of requests and Merriam's delay in completing the official call. The houses then held a joint meeting to hear a brief message from the governor.

Of primary importance on the program was Merriam's recommendation that the legislature authorize the expenditure of $2,500,000 of the $24,000,000 relief appropriation available July 1, in order that the dole may be financed until that time.

POLICE SIFT TERROR RULE IN MICHIGAN

25 Warrants Issued For Members of Hooded
Black Legion

DETROIT, May 25.—(UP)—Murder warrants charging 25 members of the hooded and robed Black Legion with the death of Charles A. Poole, 32, were issued today, as authorities extended their investigation of the band's terrorist activities through every populous center of the state.

Thirteen of the warrants were issued against men under arrest for the murder of Poole on the night of May 12, and 12 were "Joe Doe" warrants.

Each warrant charged conspiracy to kidnap the 32-year-old WPA worker who "knew too much about the Black Legion," and each charged his willful murder as he stood before the hooded group in a deserted West Side park.

13 Present at 'Execution'

Wayne County Prosecutor Duncan C. McGraw, whose investigators are inquiring into every phase of the band's subversive activities, said "we have sufficient evidence to support the contention that the 13 men were present when the conspiracy to murder Poole was entered into."

"Two others either were present at the meeting or on the way to the meeting at which Poole was killed," he added. "The fact that some of the members were prevented from arriving at the roadside where Poole was shot down because of an open drawbridge, does not qualify the murder charge in the slightest."

While county authorities issued the murder warrants, Captain Ira Marmon, commandant of state police, ordered a thorough investigation of every suspicious "suicide."

ROOSEVELT LEAVES HOME AT HYDE PARK

HYDE PARK, N. Y., May 25.—(UP)—President Roosevelt sets out tonight for Washington after a weekend at Hyde Park devoted to looking after his aged mother who injured her hip in a fall.

The chief executive, who had been expected to see Governor H. Lehman to thresh out the political situation arising from the latter's decision to retire from public life, will board a special train shortly before midnight.

Meanwhile, political observers continued to speculate upon the effect of Lehman's determination not to seek renomination for the governorship and the apparent willingness of Mr. Roosevelt to let him think the matter over.

ARIZONA LOSES WATER RIGHTS PLEA IN COURT

"Although no decree rendered in its absence can bind or effect the United States, that fact is not an inducement for this court to decide the rights of the states which are before it by a decree which, because of the absence of the United States, could have no finality. A bill of complaint will not be entertained, if filed, could only be dismissed because of the absence of the United States as a party."

"The petition to file the proposed bill of complaint is denied. We leave undecided the question whether an equitable division of the unappropriated water of the river can be decreed in a suit in which the United States and the interested states are parties."

"Arizona will be free to assert such rights as she may have acquired, whether under the Boulder Canyon project act and California's undertaking to restrict her own use of the water or otherwise, and to challenge, in any appropriate judicial proceedings, any act of the secretary of interior or others, either states or individuals, injurious to it and in excess of their lawful authority."

ARIZONA GOVERNOR SHOCKED BY SUPREME COURT RULING

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 25.—(UP)—Governor B. B. Moore said today he was "shocked and surprised" at the U. S. supreme court's refusal to accept Arizona's lawsuit to determine water rights on the Colorado river.

He said he would confer immediately with Atty. Gen. John L. Sullivan over what the state can do to reinstate the suit against six other western states. The governor would not comment further.

Sullivan could not be reached at his office, nor could James R. Moore, the state's special Colorado river counsel. Members of their

Inventor Gets His Prowler With Fishhook

The new sport of prowler-fishing, essentially a nocturnal pastime, was rapidly gaining public favor today following the success of its inventor, W. N. Polsten, 700 North Sabina street, Anaheim, who used a fishhook last night to catch a 12-year-old boy at his window.

Polsten had been troubled by prowlers the past four nights. Yesterday he rigged up a wire under the window where the nightly visitor had been heard. Anyone stepping on the wire would release a strong spring, which would jab the fishhook into the step.

It worked just that way. Polsten found, when he heard a treble yell of pain outside the window last night. He found a boy with the fishhook imbedded in his leg to the extent that the ministrations of a surgeon were necessary for its removal.

"This," said Polsten, "beats a spinner or a fly. Almost any little hook will do. There's very little strain from floundering."

WESTERN BUSINESS SHOWING ACTIVITY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—(UP)—Business activity in the west continues active. Twelfth Federal Reserve District reports showed today.

Loans to business made by federal reserve member banks in seven cities of the Twelfth Reserve totaled $365,000,000 during the week ending May 20, the Federal Reserve bank of San Francisco announced. This compared with $362,000,000 the preceding week.

SCREAMS ROUT BURGLAR FROM HOME AT NIGHT

A burglar who entered the unlocked door of the Elwood Bear home, 520 West Nineteenth street, about 1:15 o'clock yesterday morning, threatened to attack Mrs. Bear who was alone in the house with her small daughter, and then ran and escaped as Mrs. Bear screamed.

The burglar, described by Mrs. Bear as having black, bushy hair which stood straight up on his head, being middle aged, about five feet nine inches tall and wearing a dark suit, entered the home through a rear door. On account of his health, Mr. Bear sleeps out-of-doors, and was not in the house at the time. As the man snapped on a flashlight, the light revealed his features; then, as he flashed the light in Mrs. Bear's face and threatened her, she screamed, according to a report made by Officer L. H. Nicholson, and he ran from the house by the door he had entered, and escaped in the direction of East Nineteenth street. He failed to steal any property at the Bear home, according to a check-up.

A man who said he was Fred C. Penrod and who gave a fictitious address on West Second street, called when he tried to pass a check on a local tire concern as he sought to buy a new tire, Saturday, George McMillan of Serra, said he made the rounds of several places here last night where he had a few drinks of beer and as he waited at the Santa Fe station for transportation home, discovered his pockets had been picked of $17.

Three automobiles were reported stolen over the week end here, two of them being recovered soon after their disappearance. Edwin Fugatt, 510 East Fourteenth street, reported a car registered to G. Kendall, 1507 North Dresser street, was stolen last night from its parking place on Third between Birch and Ross streets; it is described as a green Chevrolet 1927 coupe with black fenders. A. M. McCahan, Yorba Linda, who reported his car stolen sometime before Saturday midnight, from First street between Birch and Broadway, found it at Second and Main later; R. S. Wilson, 903 North Flower, also recovered his car which he reported stolen Saturday night from a downtown parking place.

Wins 'First Lap' in Senate Race

Renominated in a primary in which his Republican opponents were snuffed under, 4-1, Senator Charles L. McNary (Rep., Ore.) will add to his 20 years of continuous service in the Senate if he can defeat a Townsdenite opponent in the November election. The Senate Republican floor leader is pictured above in characteristic pose, delivering an opinion in a hearing on proposals for the Columbia Valley Authority, which involves the welfare of his constituents back home.

Al Greer, Box 231, Huntington Beach, told officers Saturday, a thief stole the radiator cap from his car while it was parked recently in downtown Santa Ana. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and Roy Hartley were unable to find the man Mrs. Gall May 719 South Shelton street, reported she saw at a window of her home about 2 a. m. today, evidently trying to break in. On April 28, someone entered the front of the F. E. Pimental home, 815 North Flower, while Mrs. Pimental was in the yard at the rear, and stole a $14 check, $3 in cash and a woman's old style gold watch, she reported to police Saturday.

TOWN HISTORY ENRICHED

MONTEREY, Cal.—(UP)—Federal research workers have established that an Argentine naval expedition under the command of a French captain captured and sacked Monterey in 1818. The Argentine flag floated for several days over the city making seven foreign flags that have at times been flown in California.

At the second annual stockholders' meeting of the Southern California Sugar company, new officers elected were F. H. Case, president; P. P. Nicky, vice president; Charles A. Riggs, secretary; Dr. J. M. Raugh, treasurer. This same group will have on the directing board, Dr. H. S. Gordon, J. A. Turner, R. J. Blee, H. W. Hinz, H. J. Porgy and Samuel Hill.

At Tuesday's election in the Magnolia district, the new town of Stanton was made possible by popular vote of the people. The new municipality lies southwest of Anaheim and includes the Magnolia and Clare districts. The successful party is preparing to hold a big celebration barbecue on the very land that otherwise would have been devoted to a sewer farm. Gilbert, owner of the property, declared that when he saved Anaheim an option on the land, he did not know for what purpose it was to be used.

Official returns of the school election in Fullerton show that the majority of voters expressed a preference for changing the site of the high school. Unless the board of trustees can agree on the new site, the matter will have to be put up to the people again in the form of a second election. Another bond election will be necessary also to finance the new buildings, the previous election having been declared illegal.

POLICE HUNT 12 MORE MEN IN GILT DEATH

clde" and mysterious death in the state in the past three years.

Police Ranks Probed

Having found paraphernalia for the legion in the home of a state prison guard, authorities hinted that many state, municipal, and county employees were members, including some officials. In Pontiac, George J. Eckhardt, former chief of police, charged that one-third of the force belongs to the legion. He named a prominent police official as a member.

Marmon, stating that his investigation had turned up facts "almost unbelievable," said he had evidence to show that 50 men were on the legion's execution list.

He believed the secret society, organized along the lines of the Ku Klux Klan, had extended its membership into every section of Michigan and possibly into many sections of the United States. He believed it had 125,000 members in Michigan alone.

Some authorities believed that the legion may have been responsible for scores of unexplained deaths in the last three years. Despite the frightful oath each legionnaire was forced to take, a pistol pressed to his heart, despite its inflexible rule that death was the penalty to members who told its secrets, information was accumulating of a private, "outlaw" army commanded and disciplined

Pity the poor New Yorkers! They're just about recovered from the elevator strike, when the barbers decide to take a walk... Well, I don't know whether they're striking for shorter hours, or shorter hair-cuts, but while on the subject, why not do something about shorter conversation.

Of course, we don't object to a barber winning an occasional dispute with the boss, if they'll only stop using our face for a score-board.

On past performances, we can't expect them to settle their differences overnight... You know how barbers are when it comes to splitting hairs.

Personally, I think they're using the wrong method of coercion by walking out... The surest way for a barber to get a raise is while he has the boss in the chair giving him a shave.

Regardless of the outcome, I'm sure the strike order will in no way affect the manicurists... Those girls are making money hand over fist.

BANKRUPT ACT HELD INVALID BY HIGH COURT

Congress Central Clipped

Justice James C. McReynolds, writing the majority opinion, charged the act infringing constitutional provisions against impairment of contractual obligations. He charged, also, that the act led to direct control of the affairs of states and their subdivisions by congress in contrast to the constitutional provisions against such interference.

The bankruptcy act, while not directly a new deal measure, had won new deal support.

In the Tugwell case, the court's censure arose from the fact that Tugwell, in his capacity as assistant secretary of agriculture, conducted a hearing concerning Kansas City livestock rates although Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace issued the orders which resulted from the hearing.

The decision censured the contention that the authority granted under the packers and stockyards act was granted to the whole department rather than the secretary.

The court also gave orders for issuance of an immediate mandate carrying out its decision that the Guffey coal control act is unconstitutional and allowed the government time to argue against hearing full costs of the test action.

ONE KILLED, 4 ARE INJURED IN ORANGE COUNTY

the accident until Saturday morning; he is being treated for concussion, possible skull fracture and severe pavement burns. J. A. Sherwood, 330 West Pine, Santa Ana, was injured early Sunday morning on a curve of Laguna canyon road, near Irvine lakes, when his car crashed. He was found by some early morning fishermen along the road in a dazed condition and taken to Dr. B. B. Mason for treatment. His car was demolished, the accident resulting from a tire blow-out, he declared.

Charles Dudley of First National Studios, Burbank, told sheriff's officers he struck a fence and damaged his car Sunday night a mile east of Alwood as he avoided a car parked along the road. The parked car, it was reported, belonged to F. J. Van De Putte, Placentia, who apparently had run out of gasoline and gone to get some more.

Kenneth Wolff, 921 South Flower, and Henry Rose, San Diego, reported their cars damaged about the same time Sunday afternoon by hit-and-run drivers. Wolff told city officers his car was parked in front of his home when two young boys drove to the left side of the street and crashed the fenders of his car; Rose said his car was parked at First and Bristol when an automobile crashed into its rear, smashing spring and bumper. Newell Lucas, 49, 1432 West Fourth, was booked at county jail for being drunk after officers found his car smashed against an Edison pole at Fourth and Pacific.

An intersection crash at Los Angeles and Adele streets in Anaheim, at 12:45 a. m. today sent two women to the hospital, both with face injuries.

Harriet Adden, 1308 Frances avenue, Fullerton, 21 years old, was the more seriously injured. She was unconscious when picked up. She was a passenger in the car driven by J. Stark Van Wagoner, Jr., of 215 E. North street, Anaheim, when it collided with the car driven by W. B. Bickerstaff of 313 S. Lemon, Anaheim. Mrs. Bickerstaff was the other woman injured, receiving two cuts about the face, necessitating stitches. Both were taken to the Anaheim sanitarium.

TWELVE ARRESTED ON DRUNK CHARGES

Twelve men were arrested and charged with being drunk during the weekend, according to city police records today. According to Officers C. V. Adams and F. Ground, they found New 1 Lucas, 49, of 1432 West Fourth street, sitting under the steering wheel of his car, with the engine running, at Fourth and Pacific last night. The car, they said, had just come out of a driveway, crossed the street and crashed into an electric light pole, smashing the car's windshield and fender but leaving Lucas uninjured. Lucas was booked for being drunk as the officers did not see him in the act of driving, it was reported.

A thirteenth man who, witnesses said, was intoxicated, fell through the window of a West Fifth street restaurant during the weekend, smashing out the glass. He was not arrested, officers said, as he was inside the restaurant and had promised to pay for the damaged window.

A back or leg broken in front of your house may break you. INSURE.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is your rightful privilege to lean upon the love of a close friend because the unbending love of your heart brings comfort. It is not good for you, however, to retail your sorrows to every passer-by.

There are pitfalls in every experience and, if you are to become brave and strong, you must face your duties and try to spread sunshine.

God knows how your heart aches and He grieves with you, but He must count upon your being courageous for the one you love best.

Definite steps in a campaign toward attracting wealthy tourists to Orange county were taken today at a meeting of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Included in the plans approved today was the proposal that an attempt be made to secure a safe highway to the peak of Saddleback mountain. Directors pointed out that the trip up the mountain is one of the most scenic in the county and the view from the peak gives an impressive panorama of the county from mountains to sea. It was pointed out that all roads up the mountain, however, are considered unsafe and closed to general traffic.

The matter was referred to Herb Miller, chairman of the chamber's highway and street committee. Miller will take the matter up with the board of supervisors and request that body of officials to request the United States Forestry Department to provide a one-way road to the peak.

Rex Kennedy, president of the Chamber of Commerce said that the harbor celebration held Saturday and Sunday was the most impressive celebration ever staged in this county and is absolute proof that internationally known and wealthy people can be attracted to this county.

Ray Goodell, chairman of the committee in charge of working out details of the campaign to attract tourists to this county suggested that to make it easy for tourists to visit the points of interest in the county.

This amount Guenther said, is the largest in the history of the company and of the total $355,596,140 is in force in California. More than $64,000,000 worth of insurance was written during the past year representing a gain in insurance for the state of $28,176,982.

WITHERS BROS. CONDEMN FRUIT AND LOSE CASE

Withers Brothers, Placentia shipping firm which succeeded in beating the California "little AAA" in a test court case involving shipping regulations, today had granted authorities their point in connection with a second action, instituted last week against 1.4 boxes of grapefruit.

By signing an agreement, Saturday, to send the 134 boxes of rejected grapefruit to a Los Angeles bi-products plant, under supervision of the county agricultural department, as announced today by Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, Withers Brothers, in effect, voluntarily condemned the fruit which an agricultural inspector, Roy E. Black, had tabbed as immature.

Black and other inspectors at Wilmington seized the grapefruit and court action was filed to condemn it. After Withers Brothers signed the agreement Saturday, the county agricultural department deposited the grapefruit in the bi-products plant.

McCabe today stated that the condemnation suit accordingly will be dropped. The suit named the 134 boxes of grapefruit defendant. "The defendant probably has been canned by this time, so we'll have to drop the case," said the prosecutor.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Healey Labor bill was "laid on the table" by the house judiciary committee several weeks ago. When legislators do not want to vote against a bill and yet want to put it some place where no one will ever be able to find it, they "lay it on the table." What they really mean is that they are tossing in under the table.

Nevertheless, several distinguished committeemen were noted on their hands and knees the other day, rummaging around under the table looking for the discarded Healey bill.

Their actions caused considerable classroom speculation because everyone knew they were against the bill. They had killed the similar but stronger Walsh bill last session even against presidential wishes. Nothing had happened in the interim to cause them to change their minds. At least nothing that anyone outside knew about.

The search for the bill was successful, however, and arrangements were made to vote on it Tuesday.

DEAL

The significant thing is that the search was started immediately after President Green of the A. F. of L. wrote that letter to Speaker Byrnes, helping the New Deal to kill the Frazier-Lemke inflation bill.

This significance is doubled by the fact that legislative agents for the labor people are now telling congressmen the Healey bill is No. 1 on the A. F. of L. list of most legislation for the session.

Indeed, several well informed congressmen will tell you flatly that the Healey bill is the price Mr. Green got for going to so much trouble to aid the president in resisting the Frazier-Lemke inflation bill. They say it was an even swap, and nothing else was included in the deal.

EXPLANATIONS

Note 1. There is some question about how much Mr. Green's letter helped the New Deal in the Frazier-Lemke fight. The most prominent labor congressmen voted for the inflation bill, regardless of Mr. Green's advice. However, it furnished an adequate excuse to any congressman who wanted to vote against the bill.

Note 2. While Speaker Byrnes read the Green letter, the general inner understanding is that it was handed to him. He was apparently not in on the negotiations which led up to it. Only one New Dealer is sufficiently powerful to have negotiated the deal.

Note 3. The back-stage understanding is that, if anything is done about the Healey bill, it will not be toward imposing NRA code hours and wages on all contractors doing business with the general government (as provided in the original Walsh bill). Nor will it give Labor Secretary Perkins the right to fix hours and wages. Instead, it will be on a basis of requiring government contractors to pay prevailing wages. This idea is already in force on all federal public building contracts, but not on others.

PLAN

New Deal philosophers will deny it but they have abandoned all thought of a constitutional amendment curbing the supreme court. Now they are trying with the simpler proposal of enlarging it by a simple act of congress after the next election.

They have dismissed constitutional reform as too tedious and tortuous, and not sure of ratification by the states. They realize that their new scheme will precipitate ugly charges of "packing the court," but they have a ready answer. It is that the court should be composed of men who supposedly reflect public sentiment. Rejection of Mr. Roosevelt will be taken as confirmation that the people favor a liberalized judiciary.

Supreme court intimates suggest that increasing the number of justices from nine to "teen may not be necessary. It is possible that two members—Justice Van Devanter and McReynolds—may resign within a year. Both are in ill health, and feel they have done their bit for the constitution already. Two Roosevelt nominees would transform the liberal minority into a New Deal majority.

ACRIMONY

Court attaches report that Chief Justice Hughes is bitterly disappointed at his inability to dissuade the conservative majority from damming the underlying philosophy of the New Deal. His "acrimony" has been reflected in his separate opinions and in his manner on the bench.

The chief justice has striven to confine anti-New Deal decisions to the legal points under consideration. He has tried to narrow his colleagues' condemnation to legal problems as against economic and philosophical issues. He has tried to prevent their questioning or interpreting the will of congress. But on several notable occasions—the NRA, AAA, SEC and Guffey decisions—they have virtually delivered extra-legal stump speeches, in his opinion.

The result has been that Mr. Hughes has become unpopular with both groups. The conservatives refused to go along with him in upholding the Guffey price-fixing provisions. And Justice Cardozo of the minority took a sly poke at the chief justice by quoting the latter's Alphonse decision in which he held that coal mining was an "interstate" activity. No wonder the justices are looking forward to vacation after a winter of weekly acrimonious arguments among themselves.

LIGHTNING

Secretary Ickes let a dangerous New Deal secret out of the bag when he testified in court that he suspected internal sabotage of PWA. The same condition exists in other departments and emergency agencies, and it will develop explosively during the campaign.

Key officials as well as subordinates were fired helter-skelter during the early days of the administration. Some got in through friendship with holdovers from the Hoover and Coolidge regimes. Many were named without regard for their political affiliations, and hundreds of anti-New Dealers held at confidential positions. In three years there has been a tremendous turnover because of individual inefficiency or politics. Naturally, those who lost out are sore.

The Republicans, as Whirligig pointed out some time ago, have been smart enough to contact the soreheads either at Washington or back home. They are filling their files with sensational information to be disclosed at the proper time. Ickes knows it—and so do other cabinet members. But they're in the dark as to where or when the blow will hit them.

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Because most members of congress do not like the Townsend plan or its political implications, there is a disposition to make the champion of old age pensions the victim of the usual congressional inquisition.

Dr. Townsend has balked at this procedure and evidently will invoke judicial protection. His refusal to testify further because he considers the line of questioning to be irrelevant brings up the problem of just how congress can punish a recalcitrant witness.

This has been up many times in the past and it is not generally realized that, in one famous case, the sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives was ruled by the supreme court of the United States to have acted improperly in arresting a witness who was being interrogated on matters that in no way concerned the rights of congress.

The matter under discussion related to a bankruptcy proceeding in which the United States government had a direct interest because it was a creditor. The witness was asked to disclose his associates in a financial transaction which the federal government claimed was a giving of preference to one creditor over another—clearly on the surface a relevant piece of information.

When the witness refused to disclose his associates, the order for arrest came upon the direction of the house of representatives itself, but the supreme court held that enforcement of the laws of the United States—that is, whether, as in this instance, the witness had violated the bankruptcy statutes—was a matter for the department of justice and not the congress.

Somewhat parallel is the situation of Dr. Townsend. If he has violated any law, as alleged, he has used the mails to defraud in any way, this is a subject over which the department of justice has the power to prosecute. There is no right inherent in any congressional committee to seek evidence of law violation, though it has the same right as any other citizen or institution to call such possible law violations to the attention of the department of justice.

The theory back of the supreme court's ruling is that only one branch of the federal government possesses the judicial power. It cannot be possessed and exercised by the legislative as well as the judicial. The founding fathers were

LUTHER LEAGUE CONVENTION IS CLOSED SUNDAY

Passing a resolution in favor of the establishment of a Lutheran college in California, Federated Lutheran leagues of the California district, American Lutheran churches, brought their two-day convention to a close last night in Anaheim Grace Lutheran church.

Officers installed at the closing meeting were Eugene Hoffmann of Mt. Calvary church, Los Angeles, who was elected to the post; Kenneth Sorenson of Santa Ana, first vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Hunziker, Anaheim, second vice president; Roy Gruns, Long Beach, treasurer; Miss Gertrude Hoffmann, Mt. Calvary church, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Van Krock, Messiah church, Los Angeles, officer of houses; Miss Juanita Pickett, Anaheim, secretary.

This year's convocation, which was held in Santa Ana and Anaheim, was voted such a success that members decided to stage a similar event next year in Los Angeles Mt. Calvary church.

New memberships in the Federation were accorded Triple T club of Messiah church, Los Angeles, and Pomona Junior league.

Anheim, Compton, Pomona, Santa Ana, Torrance, Visalia, San Diego, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Inglewood and Pasadena churches were represented at the convention, which opened in Santa Ana Saturday afternoon with registration in St. Peter Lutheran church. Miss Wilma Ziemer, president of the league of the Santa Ana church, was in general charge of convocation arrangements.

The Rev. Carl Doermann, missionary from India, was speaker at Sunday morning services, and at the convention business session Sunday afternoon in Santa Ana. The Rev. H. W. Meyer, pastor of St. Peter's church and the Rev. C. H. S. Hunziker, pastor of Anaheim Grace church, aided in carrying out plans for the convocation.

BARTENDERS UNION TO BE DISCUSSED

Organization of a bartenders' and culinary workers' union will be discussed Wednesday night at a meeting to be held in Carpenter's hall, 402 West Fourth street, according to A. H. Bauer, general organizer for the American Federation of Labor.

The meeting will start at 8 p. m. and all bartenders, chefs, waiters and waitresses have been urged to attend the conference. Mayor Carl Fietzner, of Long Beach who is also head of the Central Labor Council in that city, will be one of the speakers. Other union officials also will speak and assist with the details of organizing the union, according to Bauer.

Salvage '$1,000,000 Wallpaper'

The "Million Dollar Room" of Chicago's Union League Club is losing its "wallpaper," so the depression must be over! Five years ago, during hard times, these "worthless" securities, being steamed off by Momme Jacobson, painter, and C. W. Bergquist, chairman of the house committee, were contributed by pessimistic members to decorate the room. Recently, however, the donors have been discovering that the "wallpaper" isn't quite worthless, after all, and have been asking the return of their stocks and bonds. The room will be redecorated as the Gold Room.

Men: Melvin Miller, first; Bert Sanders second and Leonard Little third.
Women: Meryl Miller, first; Frances Pogue second and Barbara Nyte third.

Boys: Leslie Clever, first; Ralph Maynard, second and Winfield Riggan, third.

Choppy waves on the bay yesterday kept many of the smaller sailing craft at anchor during the major portion of the day and resulted in two boat upsets and two rescues by the official boat of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

Jack Martin, 12 years of age, sailing alone in his small boat, overturned and was rescued by the club boat. Douglas MacKinnon and J. M. Webster, prominent yachtsmen, assisted in the rescue.

J. C. Gurley, also turned over in his sailboat and was brought ashore by the club boat.

More than 700 people were entertained at the Yacht club during the celebration with the opening dinner dance held Saturday night with Commodore and Mrs. Rohl, acting as official host and hostesses.

Gov. Frank Merriam was made an honorary commodore of the host club during the evening with Staff Commodore Albert E. Soland, U. S. Navy Reserve officer and chairman of the celebration committee, conferring the honor.

During the dinner dance Commodore Lampton of the Long Beach Yacht club entertained with a party of 18; Port Captain George A. Rogers party included 12 guests; the local chamber of commerce entertained 12, including Governor and Mrs. Merriam and other dignitaries; Mr. and Mrs. Felix Farrell entertained 12 friends; Buck Jones was present with a party of 12 people; Mr. and Mrs. William Tompkins' party included 12.

climates have violated the laws of the United States either in using the mails improperly or in failing to make proper return of their income taxes, the executive agencies of the government are the ones to make inquiry and indictment and not the congressional committees. But so great is the feeling in congress against the political tactics of the Townsendites that it would not be surprising if the prosecution tactics were condoned. In the end, Dr. Townsend will take his case to the courts no doubt and maybe a couple of years from now his rights will be defined. Meanwhile the adverse publicity will damage his cause.

"I did not know there was such a medicine discovered as this new Gly-Cas," said Mrs. Cashdollar. "For ten years I had been habitually constipated, my entire system filled with poisons and my stomach was badly affected. Foods I ate would sour, bloated after every meal and the attacks of indigestion that would come on me were unbearable. I would become so short of breath I would nearly smother and often have had to sit up in bed to be able to breathe at all. My kidneys gave me trouble, too, and dizzy spells were entirely too frequent. It was impossible for me to get a good night's sleep it seemed and my entire system seemed to be gradually wearing out. I should have been in bed many days but I kept going even if it was with a great effort. Medicine of every known kind failed in my case it seemed and I was dreadfully discouraged until I was finally persuaded to try Gly-Cas. It was entirely different from anything I had ever taken before. It gave me results."

"If it had not been for Gly-Cas I would yet be suffering terribly," continued Mrs. Cashdollar. "By the time I had taken my first few doses I knew I had found the one REAL medicine of them all. Those poisons were quickly eliminated and in a most natural way. My stomach and bowels are now regulated and function properly. I am rapidly regaining my strength and am again able to do my work with ease. My appetite is returning, nerves are quieted, eat and sleep good and really enjoy the best health I have had in many years. Gly-Cas has certainly proven its merit beyond all doubt and I feel it my duty to tell others about such a remarkable remedy so they, too, may regain their health as I have mine."

Gly-Cas is sold by McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, and by leading druggists in surrounding towns.

The program included two solos by Miss Johanna Lemke, with her niece, Betty Ann Hasson accompanying, and a reading and a piano number by Kay Everhart of Anaheim.

During the program, Horace Head, of Santa Ana, presented the Native Daughters with a copy of a document he had prepared for the Anaheim Union Water company outlining the start of the irrigation projects of the county.

Mrs. Terry Stephenson, of Santa Ana, was principal speaker and discussed some of the pioneers. Others who spoke were Mrs. Emma Grimshaw, A. Pierotti and Mrs. A. Pierotti, James Tuffree, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Charles Hanson, William Wallop, Marcus Andrade, Mrs. John Kellenberger, Ed Beazley, Mrs. Mickel, Pete Robinson, Mrs. G. Szwed, E. W. Dean and Mary Kraemer Miller.

"I did not know there was such a medicine discovered as this new Gly-Cas," said Mrs. Cashdollar. "For ten years I had been habitually constipated, my entire system filled with poisons and my stomach was badly affected. Foods I ate would sour, bloated after every meal and the attacks of indigestion that would come on me were unbearable. I would become so short of breath I would nearly smother and often have had to sit up in bed to be able to breathe at all. My kidneys gave me trouble, too, and dizzy spells were entirely too frequent. It was impossible for me to get a good night's sleep it seemed and my entire system seemed to be gradually wearing out. I should have been in bed many days but I kept going even if it was with a great effort. Medicine of every known kind failed in my case it seemed and I was dreadfully discouraged until I was finally persuaded to try Gly-Cas. It was entirely different from anything I had ever taken before. It gave me results."

"If it had not been for Gly-Cas I would yet be suffering terribly," continued Mrs. Cashdollar. "By the time I had taken my first few doses I knew I had found the one REAL medicine of them all. Those poisons were quickly eliminated and in a most natural way. My stomach and bowels are now regulated and function properly. I am rapidly regaining my strength and am again able to do my work with ease. My appetite is returning, nerves are quieted, eat and sleep good and really enjoy the best health I have had in many years. Gly-Cas has certainly proven its merit beyond all doubt and I feel it my duty to tell others about such a remarkable remedy so they, too, may regain their health as I have mine."

Gly-Cas is sold by McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, and by leading druggists in surrounding towns.

LARGE CROWD HEARS FINAL SYMPHONY CONCERT OF YEAR

By FRIEDA G. ROWLAND

The Santa Ana Symphony Orchestra, under the capable baton of Elwood Bear, ended its concert season with a well-balanced program given in the Methodist Church last evening. A large, responsive audience enjoyed the varied program, and the featured baritone singer, Charles Ross.

Mr. Ross' rich voice was well adapted to the group of songs he sang, "It Is Enough" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah"; "Nobility Knows the Trouble I've Seen," by Clarence Cameron White, and "Deep River," traditional. His voice showed good training, and his approach was charmingly informal. He was warmly received.

Director Bear opened the concert with the introduction to the first movement of the great Schubert C Major Symphony to set the keynote, then swung into a slow movement. After a seven-measure introduction in the latter, the main theme was announced by the plaintive oboe of Mr. Ferrey. The constant reiteration of "E" brought out the haunting quality of this singularly beautiful theme. The other instruments were skillfully united in bringing out the strong dynamic contrasts of the movement.

The long scherzo opened vigorously in the strings. The significant tone of "E" was repeated twenty-four times in the opening of the trio, and the whole movement was charged with romantic feeling.

The orchestra expressed vividly the overflowing joyousness of the extended finale. A noble theme appears in the development which was strongly reminiscent of the principal theme in the finale of the Beethoven Ninth.

Particularly thrilling was the long, gradual crescendo and mighty climax in the Prelude to Wagner's "Lohengrin." It began and ended ethereally in high divided violins, and faded away in long sustained harmonies, played by Miss Walton and Mr. McAvoy.

The rhythmic vitality of Elzet's music characterized the concluding group of three numbers, taken from the "L'Arlesienne" suites. After the impressive "Carillon" came "Minuet" in which the flute solo was beautifully played by Philip Hood. Mr. Hood's accompaniment was admirably played on the harp by Mary Ellen Truxaw. This was followed by the final number, the boisterous "Farandole."

This concert ended the third year the orchestra has appeared in the Methodist church. During that time Director Bear has enjoyed the kind cooperation of Dr. George Warner, pastor, and staff employees; the assistance of Georgia Bell Walton, concertmaster; Edward Burns, principal cellist; Leland Auer, principal trumpeter, and a cabinet of officers, all of which have helped make the concert a success. Next year the orchestra expects to play in the new high school auditorium.

TOM CARLYLE IS HONORED BY ARIZONA UNI.

Tom G. Carlyle, Santa Ana high school graduate in 1932, has been elected to membership at Tucson, Ariz., by "The Bobcats," senior men's honor society at the University of Arizona. The Zeta Beta Tau social fraternity has elected Sam Tucker, a Santa Ana high school graduate of 1933, its Arizona chapter vice president for the 1935-37 school year.

Carlyle is one of six members elected by "The Bobcats," organization which gets its name from the school mascot, the Wildcat, a bob-tailed wildcat which roams the Arizona mountains in large numbers. Election to the society is the highest honor which can come to a senior man at the Arizona institution in other than scholastic attainments.

For the past two years Carlyle has been the most dependable football end Coach G. A. Oliver has had with his outfit. He played his final year here last fall. He is studying for a bachelor of science degree in business administration; attended the Santa Ana junior college prior to his registering at the University of Arizona.

Tucker is the son of A. Tucker, Santa Ana produce dealer. He played on the squad with Carlyle last fall, and earned his first letter award at the close of the season.

SPRING BUSINESS IN CALIFORNIA GOOD, ACCORDING TO REPORT OF LOCAL BANK

Favorable growing conditions for agriculture, and sustained vigor in industry, commerce, and employment in California are two highlights of the May business report just released by the First National Bank here.

April business activity on the Pacific Coast went forward at the highest levels for that month since 1931, according to the Index of Western Business received monthly. This index, in which the 1933-35 average equals 100, stood at 84.8 in April, as against 75 in April last year. The low April figure for the depression was 59.5 in 1933; the April, 1931 figure was 86.6.

The state's wheat crop for 1935 is estimated at 14,269,000 bushels, a 5 per cent increase over last year's harvest and a 40 per cent increase over the average crop for 1929-34. Barley is forecast at 840,000 tons, 4.5 per cent less than the 1935 crop, but 30 per cent more than the average crop for 1925-34. Condition of hay on May 1 was rated 88 per cent of normal, the same as a year ago, and three points higher than the long-time average for that date. In flaxseed, a relatively new crop in California, a further slight increase is indicated in acreage—40,000 acres planted this year, as against 38,000 last year and 11,000 in 1934.

Prospects for fruit crops show the effects of heavy frosts in March. Reductions from last year's smaller-than-average crops seem indicated for almonds and clingstone peaches, and from last year's larger-than-average crops in the case of grapes and prunes. On the other hand, increases over last year's smaller-than-average yields are indicated for apricots, cherries, pears, and plums; and even over last year's larger-than-average apple and walnut crops.

New Fiction IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

BY VERA RAMSEY

In our fast moving modern life, ten years ago seems almost prehistoric. How much of the background of our immediate past can we remember?

Richard Sherman in "To Mary with Love" revives some of this for us. Ten years ago, country club orchestras played "Valencia" and "Moonlight and Roses." The author says, "Adults said 'keen' then, too, not just small boys."

People were "the berries" in 1925. The novel's chief appeal consists of the reconstruction of a background that is so near and yet so far from us. The narrative is the slight but beautifully told love story between two men and a woman. It is a sentimental story, filled with nostalgia, but told with restraint and with a quiet humor.

It is amusing to recollect the catch words and styles of a past through which we have lived. In 1925—hats and hines so low that women had to look up in order to see anything. Skirts were at their all-time high. People hummed, "Can't help lovin' that man." All of this amuses us now, yet is sad too. So much of our existence, which seems so important is transitory. In a few years its death is very nearly complete. This novel with its beautiful writing makes us laugh at our absurdities; at the same time we weep quietly at their passing.

Amidst the whirl of modern life, it is unusual to find a person who has attained a degree of permanency. Frederick Lambeck tells of such a character in "Best in the Greenwood."

Lucille Beaufort believes that modern people move so rapidly that there is no time for enjoyment or reflection. She, at sixty-three, has removed herself from this hub-bub. Settling quietly in the country, she lives in true contentment among her books, pictures, music, flowers and above all with her memories or a reconstruction of a former active existence.

DUKES GOES ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH BURGLARY

George F. Dukes, who failed to convince Guy W. Kemp, Garden Grove rancher, that his uninvited presence in the Kemp living room at dawn last April 20 was really for the purpose of getting road directions to San Diego, went on trial today before a jury in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court, charged with burglary and petty theft.

The burglary charge was filed because of Dukes' alleged intrusion. The petty theft resulted from Dukes' alleged removal of Mrs. Kemp's covered typewriter as he left the house, followed by Kemp's suspicions.

Kemp's suspicions were followed by Kemp himself, armed with a shotgun. He saw the typewriter on the sidewalk, and his suspicion that he mistook the typewriter for his wife's traveling bag, Mrs. Dukes having been left asleep in the Dukes car, outside, when Dukes entered to get road directions. Another man was also in the car.

This explanation failed to allay the Kemp suspicions, and he held his shotgun at ready. Dukes, he said later, went to the car and suddenly urged his male companion to cut loose at Kemp with a machine gun.

"Let it flicker," said Kemp pointing his shotgun at the car. No machine gun appeared. Dukes then drove away. Kemp reported to the authorities and Dukes was subsequently apprehended.

WOMAN LEAPS FROM LINER OFF BALBOA

Orange county officers today were searching for the body of Miss Mary Foster, 119 South Street, Los Angeles, reported to have leaped from the deck of the S. S. Alexander, off Balboa, yesterday.

Attorney O. W. House, of Los Angeles, who reported the girl's death as a suicide, made no explanation of the asserted death leap, but described Miss Foster as having light hair and complexion, weighing 140 pounds and being five feet, nine inches tall; he said she wore a dark skirt and sweater at the time of her disappearance from the docks of the moving ship. Miss Foster's mother, Mrs. Lillian Foster, lives at the Los Angeles address. Attorney House reported to Sheriff Logan Jackson.

Italians Mourn Death of Singer

ROME, May 25.—(UP)—Italy mourned today one of its greatest operatic artists, Mme. Claudia Muzio, soprano, who had thrilled audiences in Italy, the capitals of Europe, and the United States and South America.

Mme. Muzio died yesterday of heart failure. She was to leave for Buenos Aires in a few weeks, after once postponing her departure in hope that she would recover from a long illness, due in part to worry over her mother's failing health.

Pleads Not Guilty To Theft Charges

Arraigned today before Justice Kenneth Morrison, Van B. Krisher, 1020 West Second street, pleaded not guilty to petty theft and was released on his own recognizance after trial by court was set for June 16, 9 a. m. Krisher was arrested on a warrant signed by Marie A. Patterson, 932 French street, who charged she sold Krisher an automobile and he failed to finish payments on the car, still owing her approximately $100 when he sold the car to a third party.

Oddities In The News

NO NEWS GOOD NEWS?
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 25.—(UP)—The escape of John McKeage, held on burglary charges, from Buchanan county jail more than a week ago was disclosed when three prisoners wrote a people's column in a newspaper and asked why news of the incident hadn't been printed. Sheriff George Moran said that he had not reported the escape because he believed secrecy would facilitate recapture.

OBLIGING HUSBAND
CHICAGO, May 25.—(UP)—When his bride, Wilma, said she would shoot herself if she had a gun, Oliver Amburster placed a gun on the table, left the room. When he returned later, she complained the gun would not work. Amburster "fixed" it, instructed her in its use, police said as they investigated her death.

IRON FOR GOLD
CHICAGO, May 25.—(UP)—Four thousand Italian women who gave their gold rings to help finance Italy's invasion of Ethiopia, wore iron wedding rings. In ceremonies lasting two hours, the couples were remarried with the iron bands sent from Italy to replace the gold ones.

OIL PROPERTIES OF COUNTY ASSESSED AT 43 MILLIONS

Oil companies own approximately 23 per cent of the assessed wealth of Orange county and shoulder that much of the county tax burden. It was shown today when County Assessor James Sleeper announced that the 1935 assessment of oil property totaled $43,084,235.

The total assessed valuation of all property in the county last year was $191,952,530, the largest figure in the county's history, due to a 35 per cent increase made by the state board of equalization, in establishing a universal 50 per cent ratio of assessment to actual value of property.

More than a fifth of the county's wealth thus shown is represented by mineral rights assessed at $29,532,490 and property of oil companies, assessed at $14,084,235. The personal property assessment covers such equipment as derricks, tanks and power plants. Real Estate and improvements also is included in the property assessment.

INCREASE REPORTED BY FORD MOTOR CO.

BOSTON, May 25.—(UP)—The Ford Motor company today reported for 1935 a total increase of $3,565,617 in its profit and loss account and reserves, as compared with 1934.

The total increase in profit and loss account and reserves was equivalent to $1.03 per share on 3,452,900 shares of $5 par value.

The surplus was the largest reported by the company since the end of 1932.

Smith, who claims to be Long's successor in the wealth distributing group, made the announcement after conferring with Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the old age pension movement in the local OARP headquarters.

Meetings will be held in Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, Kansas City and St. Louis, Smith said. Dates for the meetings have not yet been determined.

When Dr. Townsend walked out of the house investigating committee hearing last week, Long's supporter was at his side and humors of a political alliance between the two groups have circulated for weeks.

Today's announcement, however, was the first definite linking of the movements.

Townsend issued another statement attacking the Bell investigating committee today, declaring he would not return under any circumstances. He said the procedure was merely an attempt to "smear" him and his organization "in the hope the movement then would disintegrate."

BOLD VENTURE IS OUT FOR SEASON

BELMONT PARK, N. Y., May 25.—(UP)—Morton L. Schwartz's Bold Venture, Pimlico Preakness and Kentucky Derby winner, was thrown out of training today as the result of a bowed tendon which developed after a workout in preparation for the rich Belmont stakes June 6.

Max Hirsch, who saddled the chestnut son of St. Germain's trips to the post this season, said the colt would be out of training for the rest of the year and that there was no possibility of him meeting Joseph E. Widener's Brevity, runner-up to the Schwartz standard bearer in the derby, as a three-year-old.

Bold Venture retires for the 1936 season with earnings of $65,800 to his credit and will be brought back to the races in the handicapped division next year, Hirsch said.

The late Luther J. Ellis, who died in Fullerton May 18, left his estate, valued at "in excess of $10,000," equally to his five children, it was shown today when the will was filed for probate in superior court by a son, Lee Ellis, of Bellflower.

The other four heirs, all residing in Fullerton, are Ray Ellis, 34, Helen E. Wolfe, 39, Ella L. Ellis, 23, and Lois Ellis, 16. The share of Lois was left in trust with her elder brother, Lee.

JUBILEE TICKETS TO BE DISTRIBUTED HERE WEDNESDAY

Plans for Santa Ana's Golden Jubilee birthday party, to be staged with barbecue and entertainment on the night of June 3 at Municipal Bowl, by local service clubs, are going forward nicely today, according to Rodney Bacon and Phil Brown, chief arrangers.

Arrangements are being made today in Hollywood, for the entertainment, and the program will be outlined in an announcement to be made tomorrow, said Bacon.

"Many are interested to know where tickets can be obtained and the time and place have now definitely been arranged for," Chairman Bacon declared. "The ticket distribution will be conducted at the city hall beginning Wednesday morning, with the 20-30 club in charge. The distribution will be made on the 'first come, first served' basis, with about 1000 tickets to be given away free of cost. Another 1000 tickets will go to Santa Ana's old timers, who are to be special guests, and to service club members who take part in the program."

The 20-30 club ticket committee will be on hand at the city hall, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday—if the tickets last that long. Those who do not attend the barbecue are cordially invited to the interesting program of entertainment. Each service club will stage a special "show" for visitors, with the inimitable Frank Drumm as master of ceremonies. The June 3 schedule provides for: opening of Bowl gates, 5 p. m.; barbecue, 6 p. m.; entertainment, 7:30 p. m.

MYSTERY WOMAN IS SOUGHT BY POLICE

Mysterious invitations to a pretty 16-year-old Santa Ana girl by a middle-aged, heavy-set woman with "flaming red" hair, who said she represented "the Paris Poinsettia company of Hollywood" which needed beautiful girls in the operation of its business, started city police upon a sweeping investigation today.

Officers, who combed Los Angeles county directories Saturday afternoon only to find "the Paris Poinsettia company" non-existent, were trying to determine whether the mysterious woman, who stopped at the R. Engle home, 269 North Flower street Saturday, had any connection with an alleged "white slave" ring.

According to Mrs. Engle, the red-haired woman came to her place and told 15-year-old Roberta Engle that two months ago she was stalled in front of the Engle home when a tire on her car went flat and, at that time had "noticed Roberta and her beauty."

"I now represent the Paris Poinsettia company of Hollywood and the company will pay $10 for each treatment they give the girl," the woman was quoted as stating. She failed to explain details of the company's activities, but promised to return to Santa Ana today or tomorrow for further "conferences" regarding the offer made to Roberta. The woman was described as having "flaming red," horned hair, being 45 to 50 years old and weighing approximately 165 pounds.

Officers Charles W. Wolford and Hunter Leach were to continue the investigation today, asking the co-operation of police throughout the state.

JIMMY FIDLER in -HOLLYWOOD-

HOLLYWOOD, May 25.—Mut-

terings: Why do my fingers tangle among typewriter keys when I write the name Randolph Scott? Nine times in ten I type it Randolph Scott! Every time I meet Oliver "Babe" Hardy the thought occurs that he gets his penny's worth when he steps on a scale. Frantic urge: To rush up to Carole Lombard when she is posing for leggy pictures and drape my own over her calves. Wondering muse: Why don't MGM officials discover that Jesse Ralph, under contract on their own lot, would be perfect in stories purchased for Marie Dressler? Diabolic thought: To catch John Barrymore asleep and remodel his classic nose with putty, so his first peek into a mirror would reveal a Durante schnozzle.

Imaginable hilarious evening: Listening to Will Hays and Mae West discuss censorship. Ambition: To invite Jeanette McDonald to go with me to a Community Sing. Why is it people laugh when grownups are afflicted with measles and chicken-pox? Those ailments are dangerous to adults. Silly notion: To introduce Bing Crosby to Papa and Mama Dionne. Man I'd hate to mix with rough-and-tumble: Victor MacLaglen. Queer how few stars are addressed as "Mister" or "Miss" in conversation. It seems perfectly natural to call them by their given names only.

A sudden new worry confronts Bing Crosby on even of marching into his huge new house near Toluca Lake. Woodpeckers: that is the new worry! Crosby's home is in the center of a region infested with these birds, which have proven a problem to the telephone company (the woodpeckers fill poles with holes). Bing's home is constructed entirely of wood, which is rather unusual, for most large homes in California have stucco exteriors.

Already the redheaded birds have commenced pecking away here and there, and the Crosby brow is furrowed in deep thought. He cannot shoot them, because firing of guns is forbidden within city limits. Cats are valueless, because woodpeckers peek high beyond kitty's claws. A bunch of us mud-died over the matter with Bing yesterday. Jack Oakie suggested that Crosby make himself a slingshot. Andy Devine said that a scarecrow reared atop the house, might frighten the woodpecker away. All I had to offer was that Crosby give the birds permission to peck at the

When Noel Coward visited Hollywood, he was invited to a preview of a new outdoor picture, a horse opera. "Did you ever see anything like that?" demanded the producer, as broad stretches of vast, empty deserts swept across the screen. "Indeed I have," politely murmured Coward, "out where the audiences belonged!"

I dropped into the Franchot Tone-John Crawford menage the other morning and came upon The Master in the back yard, painting furniture. Rather sheepishly, he admitted that he is a "putterer-abouter;" he gets a kick out of doing odd jobs around the house. There is no reason for Franchot to be embarrassed; many other stars are similarly addicted. Wallace Beery is an amateur electrician de luxe: It has been years since Mrs. Beery has had to summon an electrician to mend switches and connections.

Gloria Stuart is another "fixer," and we still kid Gloria about an incident that happened last year. She went into a large coat closet to repair the doorknob. She removed the knob, but when she attempted to return it to position, she pushed the outside half off the door, and there she was locked in the closet and the maid gone to the store! Gloria was confined to her private "lock up" for half an hour. Oh, yes, about Franchot Tone's painting. He painted the family's outdoor furniture a flashy yellow-and-white combination. Joan looked once and muffled a laugh. In order not to hurt her husband's feelings, she set the furniture out in the yard—the back yard!

1000 EXPECTED TO ATTEND BIG BUREAU MEET

More than a thousand persons are expected to attend the annual California Farm Bureau Federation convention, to be held beginning during the week of December 7 at Pasadena, and 4000 more, from all parts of the country, are expected to attend the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau, to be held immediately following the state affair, in the same city, C. J. Marks, local Farm Bureau official and chairman of the national registration committee, said today.

A large portion of these visitors from out of state will come by way of the railroads, the states of Indiana, New York and New Hampshire already having made arrangements for special trains to bring their delegates to Pasadena. Marks declared, "Santa Ana is expected to be on the direct route of many of the eastern delegates who will motor through."

Fifteen committees have been set up by R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, under whose general direction the plans are being made, and two of the chairmen of these committees are from Orange county. They are Frank Pierce, chairman of music, and Marks, chairman of registration, L. E. Hadley, chairman of entertainment, is well-known in Santa Ana where he attended school; he is a brother of Mrs. Porter Luther.

At the conventions, in which the National Federated Women of the Farm Bureau also will take part, Pierce will lead a chorus of 300 selected voices, picked from the various county farm bureau choruses throughout California.

Ushers at the conventions, including two from this county, will be recruited from the 4-H Club boys and girls of the state, according to the registration chairman. Other committee chairmen include: Peter Sharpless, Whittier, arrangements; Harry Damerel, Covina, reception; Bert Holloway, Van Nuys, barbecue; Mrs. Clayton Record, San Jacinto, decorations; W. H. Williams, Rivera, housing; Jim Butler, Chatsworth, refreshments; A. W. Christie, Whittier, tours; William Tesche, Los Angeles, publicity; Roy K. Cole, Whittier, information; Mrs. Eleanor Jaroch,

Brain Twizzlers

By Prof. J. D. Flint

WELL?

If any of youse guys or gals have creative imagination you'll get a nice little workout on this Twizzler—All set?

Glinkus Kahn, exalted mogul of the plateau tribes of Central Asia, condemned Omar, the Wise-man of his court, to death. He said, "Omar, you may make a last statement. If it is true you will be hanged. If it is false you will be beheaded. If you are all-wise as people say, escape from this." (Glinkus laughed and laughed, he knew this was too tough for Omar.)

But the seer pondered a moment and then answered in such manner that it was impossible for the executioner to proceed with either punishment.

What could you have thought of to solve this predicament?

Call Mass Meeting On Civil Service Proposal

CITY, COUNTY EMPLOYEES TO HOLD PARLEY

County and city employees of Orange county, and the public generally, today were invited to attend a discussion of the proposed constitutional amendment for civil service, to take place at the Santa Ana city council chambers, in the city hall at Main and Second streets next Wednesday evening.

Grover O'Connor, of San Francisco, attorney for the California Federation of Civil Service Associations, which is sponsoring the proposed amendment, will address the meeting. He has been attorney for civil service associations in northern California for many years and is said to be thoroughly familiar with the proposed amendment, which would apply to city and county employees.

Eighty per cent of the state, and of counties and cities within the state, already are under civil service, said an announcement of the meeting today. All of the remaining 20 per cent, with certain exceptions, would be added if the amendment is approved next November by the voters.

Public employees qualified for civil service under the proposed amendment would not be subject to removal, except for proved incompetence, habitual intemperance, immoral conduct, insubordination, repeated discourtesy, dishonesty, conviction of a felony, inattention to duty and engaging in prohibited political activity.

School Music Teachers Plan Dinner Parley

Meeting for the final time this year, the Orange County Public School Music association will hold a joint session with the elementary and secondary division of the organization, according to an announcement by Orlo Bebermeyer, publicity chairman. Officers are to be elected and the meeting is scheduled for Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Orange Woman's clubhouse.

Reservations are to be made at the office of the county superintendent of schools by Tuesday. The speaker will be Louis Curtis, director of schools of Los Angeles and also a director of the National Supervisors conference. Curtis is the employer of a number of well known operettas.

Music will be furnished by the Orange County School of Fine Arts under the direction of Kate McCollough.

The signalman at Clapham Junction, London, handles 2523 trains every day during the winter. In the racing season and on holidays, this number is greatly increased.

COPY OF OLD NEWSPAPER FOUND IN TRUNK TELLS HISTORY OF SANTA ANA

An old trunk in an attic, long forgotten by those who had carefully stored in its depths numerous articles which held memories of many happy and momentous occasions, was unpacked recently by Ray Steadman, 105 East Third Street.

Among the articles were found two old newspapers, issues of the Evening Blade published here for many years and which later was purchased by The Register. The papers are in a remarkably good state of preservation, the oldest issue being that of Tuesday, July 16, 1895, and the other a special edition, issued in observance of the anniversary of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges. The latter is a 16-page paper published May 12, 1906.

Both papers are filled with the names of many persons who have played and many of whom still play an active part in the affairs of Santa Ana and Orange county. The first advertisement in the 1895 paper is a professional card carried by the late Judge Z. R. West, as an attorney, who had offices at 113 West Fourth street, and beneath was that of Judge R. Y. Williams attorney's card. Judge Williams had offices in the Commercial bank building in room six.

The advertisement of the Orange Savings bank revealed the late Noah Palmer, as president, I. N. Rafferty as vice president, C. F. Mansur cashier and F. W. Mansur as assistant cashier. Below this is the advertisement of the First National bank with W. B. Hervey as president, J. A. Turner as cashier, S. W. Preble as vice president, and R. F. Chilton as assistant cashier.

County's Oldest Bank

The Commercial bank was advertised as the oldest bank in the county incorporated April 22, 1882, with the president, Noah Palmer, the vice president, D. Halladay, cashier, G. J. Mosbaugh, and the assistant cashier, J. G. Galloway.

C. M. Nash was street superintendent. Round trip fare to Catalina on the S.S. Hermosa was $2.50 from Newport Beach. Twenty acres of land at Tustin planted to apricots, peaches and walnuts was offered for $3500, a six room house within three blocks of center of the city with barn and large lot was listed for $750. Trousers were advertised boldly as "pants at $2.50 a pair" and large loaves of bread could be had at six for a quarter.

The first personal item states that James Welch of El Paso is a visitor in the city. Welch is a real estate dealer and has been in business here for many years. There was a bicycle factory which manufactured bicycles at $100 each, the firm being Wright and Bundy.

City Buys "Jug"

A city council meeting is headed, "Santa Ana Buys a Jug" when the county jail was bought by the city for $2500. The city marshal was ordered to see that saloon windows were cleaned. The El Modena and Santiago school districts were united that day. George L. Wright ran a transfer business and M. M. Crookshank a drygoods store.

The issue devoted to matters pertaining to Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, is filled with pictures of officials of the organization including one of Mrs. Fanny Lacy, who was editor-in-chief of the edition. Sebastians operated a variety store. Cal D. Lester was county clerk. It is announced in one article that Keller E. Watson, popular Orange druggist, has ordered a considerable number of papers to be sent east.

Laguna Beach advertised the most delightful beach resort in Southern California with advice "do not wait until the electric road is built before buying. Our auto service is the best. Our trip is required for the round trip." Choice Laguna lots were quoted at from $150 to $600.

10 STUDENTS IN CAMPAIGN FOR J. C. POST

Ten students threw their hats into the ring Saturday as candidates in the coming contest for officers of the Associated Students of the Santa Ana Junior college. The nominations were made at a meeting of the student body held on the local campus.

Four students, traditionally of the stronger sex, are entering competition for president: Bob Bradley, John Ramirez, Bill Greschner and Vic Rowland. Bradley is a former president of the freshman class; Ramirez was Don at the recent college fiesta and is acting president of the Engineers club. Greschner is noted as a football and track man, while Rowland is prominent in the journalistic work of the school and in the Junior Lions service club.

For vice president are running Bob Spray, Bill Sheppard and Kenneth Nissley. Neil McDaniel, a freshman student, is uncontested in the race for treasurer. The Misses Betty Lee and Charlotte Mock are running high competition for each other in the secretarial race.

Primary elections, according to Al Markel, president of the Associated Students, will be run off Friday, May 29, followed by finals on June 3.

HISTORIC FLAG WILL BE GIVEN TO S. A. SCHOOL

Presentation of a California bear flag to Spurgeon school will be made by Santa Ana parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West Friday morning, May 29, at 11 a. m. in the school, it was announced today.

Mrs. Matilda Lemon, secretary of the parlor, who also is chairman of history and landmarks, will conduct the ceremony. City Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson will give short talks. Adkinson, who is a native Californian, will discuss the Bear flag.

Walter Egger, principal of the school, will accept the flag on behalf of the faculty and students. Miss Elsie Carter of the teaching staff is a member of the local parlor of Native Daughters.

Native Daughters are completing plans for an annual program to be given June 8 at 9 o'clock in Knights of Columbus hall, when the current class of citizenship candidates will be entertained. Each guest will be presented with a California flag and an American flag. Refreshments will be served at the close of a program.

Board's Ruling Not Rescinded

LAGUNA BEACH, May 25.—The Laguna Beach board of education has not rescinded its rule regarding the employment of married teachers with husbands or wives gainfully employed, it was stated today by W. J. Harris, clerk of the board. In a story published in The Register Friday, it was stated that the board had rescinded its previous rule. The board has not yet completed the work of signing teachers for the new term, Mr. Harris said.

WRITING TO SELL

By Ethel Lockwood

USE YOUR CAMERA

If you have a camera—or kodak—and you like to take pictures, you will find it a valuable tool in the writing and selling business. Pictures—pictures!—and more pictures!—is the cry everywhere.

If your kodak takes postcard-size pictures, you are all set to go places; if not, you will need to have your prints enlarged to at least postcard size before you end them out. In a way, this is the most thrifty method. You can take several shots on small-sized film, select the ones you think worth selling, and discard the rest. I have paid 20 to 25 cents for suitable enlargements. I should say that would be about the usual rate.

You will find your vacation trip a good occasion for picture-taking. Are you going to do anything unusual; visit any unusual place; see any unusual people?—not just unusual to you, but unusual for the average person. You can't just post Junior against the wall of the old mission at Boopoop-I-doo and expect to make a sale. But you may find an old Indian with a history; an old house that hasn't had too much publicity, or around which is woven an interesting legend.

At any rate, you will need to keep your eyes and ears tuned to the unusual if you expect to sell photographs. Don't be content with anything trite or overdone. Ask questions. Some of the old-timers may think you are a pest, but what are old-timers good for if not to answer questions?

Look for scenes or persons around which you can build a snappy title. A good picture and a snappy title will sell where a carefully-worded article hasn't a chance. Keep your written material brief and peppy. Don't try to drag in the whole family history—or write three or four stories in one. Get a clear, one-way slant on the article you have in mind, and work toward the one point all the way through.

Be sure your written material carries your name and address in the upper left-hand corner, and that each photograph is identified with your name, address, the title of the article you are submitting, as well as the caption you have selected for the particular photograph.

Don't type or write on the back of a photograph, and don't—if you value your time and money—fasten it to the typewritten sheets with paper clips.

Take a piece of paper the width of the picture, type on it the material that should be there, and paste it on the back of the photograph, with the typewritten material facing front, just below the photograph. Use only sufficient paper to carry your message. This can be folded up onto the front of the photograph when you mail it.

First—last—and all the time be sure you are photographing and writing about something fresh—and interesting.

CRATES MADE INTO DESKS

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal. (UP)—The city school management has attained the high peak in economies. Teachers' desks are made at $22 each from packing crates as against the factory produced article at $30. The desks are serviceable, money is saved and employment given to local cabinet makers.

The United States leads in copper production and takes 60 per cent of the copper exported from Chile.

Speaks Here

Toyohiko Kagawa, who will speak here Thursday at 2 p. m. in First Methodist church. This will be the only Orange county appearance of Kagawa.

Kagawa To Be Speaker Here At S. A. Church

Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese social worker and leader in Christian work, will be heard in only one public address in Orange county on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Methodist church in Santa Ana. The meeting is open to the public, free of charge. Because of the widespread interest in the visit of this world-famous leader it is expected that a tremendous crowd will seek to hear him. In order to accommodate the largest possible number, a loud-speaker system is being installed in the church so that the address may be heard in all parts of the building. Arrangements will be made to seat the overflow in other rooms, with the speaker connection so that all may hear.

Kagawa is famous for his work in the interpretation of the Christian principles of life as applied to everyday affairs. This literal acceptance of Christian ethics has led him into numerous lines of social reform, including the Christian Co-operative movement which is a matter of primary interest with him at present. His lecture tour in this country has given him the opportunity to speak before great audiences in many centers and the presentation of his ideas has called out unusual expression of interest.

WOMAN, 76, HAS THIRD TEETH

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (UP)—Mrs. Mary Gibson, 76, is the owner of her third set of natural teeth. The teeth began breaking through her gums some time ago and she now has an almost complete set. Added to that, her hair, white for years, is turning slowly to brown again.

The oil of tomato seeds, when extracted, is used in manufacture of fine soaps.

COUNTY C. OF C. TO PARLEY IN MIDWAY CITY

The important subject of the tax measures to be voted at the fall election will be taken up at the Associated Chamber of Commerce meeting to be held Tuesday evening at the Midway City Woman's clubhouse. The meeting will start with a 6:30 o'clock dinner served by the local Woman's club.

M. D. Allen, Southern California representative of the state commission on co-ordination for retention of the sales tax, will be the principal speaker of the evening. The discussion which will follow the speech will be general and all information on the subject of the proposed change which would throw the entire tax on to land owners, will be given.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

University Women Achieve Success With Party Plans

Weeks of preparation on the part of Orange county branch members of American association of University Women for their annual Student Loan fund benefit party, reached culmination Saturday afternoon in Ebell clubhouse with the entertainment of nearly 300 guests. Variety entered into this social program, for not only were contract and auction bridge and monopoly tables provided, but there was a decidedly unique fashion show, to say nothing of the dainty dessert course with which guests were regaled.

University Women left nothing undone in their party plans, and guests were received with exactly the same courtesy that would be displayed in a party in a private home. Mrs. Horace Scott, association president; Miss Martha Ehlen, president-elect; Mrs. Clarence Smith and Mrs. P. H. Budd formed the receiving line.

Tables, spread with pastel linens, were in readiness for serving the dessert course planned by Miss Genevieve Humiston and her committee, with Mrs. R. L. Mixer and her group responsible for the kitchen part of the plan. Tables and chairs were placed by a group headed by Miss Inez Hickman, and Miss Thekla Morehouse supervised serving. This was accomplished by the Pilots of the junior college, very charming in their formal afternoon frocks.

Styles of Past
Amusing little place cards, planned by Miss Ruth Rowland in harmony with the fashion sense of past decades, not only served as tally cards, but outlined the program. The delightful presentation of modes was made possible by the Goodwill Industries of Southern California and was directed by Mrs. Elaine A. Dudley of the Los Angeles office. Mrs. George Anne, whose husband is director of the Santa Ana branch of the industry, spoke briefly and extended invitation to members to visit the enterprise. Costumes of earlier periods were modeled by Spinster of the Jaycee campus, and included an afternoon dress of 1790; lingerie of the Civil war period; beach attire, sports wear, afternoon costumes and a wedding gown of the "Gay Nineties."

Mrs. Charles Brisco was chairman of the style show committee, and maintained the atmosphere of the past in all details with the aid of Miss Marjorie Woods of the decorating committee. Mrs. Mabel Spizly had planned the incidental music with the assistance of Mrs. Frank Everett and Miss Helen Lutz.

Other Chairmen

Miss Anna Trythall was bridge chairman for the ensuing games, with Miss Margaret Glenn in charge of other diversions. Mrs. Edith Thatcher outlined rules of play after which guests entered into the competition with cards and equipment arranged by Miss Lulu B. Finley. Prizes awarded in play had been secured through the efforts of Miss Mildred Mead and her committee, and were evidence of the co-operation of Santa Ana business houses. These various committee chairmen included also those whose work had been in advance of the party, all under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Knipe, general chairman. Miss Dorothy Decker had arranged preliminaries including publicity; Mrs. Walter Bacon had charge of tickets, and Miss Mabel Whitting received reservations.

Prizes in contract play went to Mrs. Lynn Crawford, with the afternoon's highest score; Mrs. George Holmes, Mrs. L. C. Mead and Miss Louise Wilson, her nearest competitors. Prizes for the three high auction scores went to Miss Geraldine Cole, Miss Grace Bell and Miss Mary Louise Wallace.

"Lucky" prizes under supervision of Mrs. Scott and Miss Ehlen, went to countless players including Mesdames J. E. Palmer, N. Moore, Ralph Watson, Warren Fletcher, Victor Valley, Reed Green, Elsie Daley, M. A. Weston, C. B. Wells, C. J. Skirven, J. M. Cloyes, R. W. Tibbets, Josephine Good, Hall, Lane and Backer; the Mesdames Thelma Thomas, Ruth Stephenson, Jean Emma Whitford, Patton, Mary Porter, Lucie McDermott, Beryl Hatch and Luella Greene.

Gifts included silk hose, house-slippers, lingerie, handkerchiefs, stationery, compacts, Mexican glass, potted plants, flowers, boxes of candy, glass and pottery, trays, toiletries, pyrex ware, Kodak books, a hectograph and other desirable articles. In addition to this fine co-operation from home merchants, was that of the American Legion which instead of presenting a prize, gave five dollars to the loan fund.

Travel Section Hears Excellent Talk on Orkney Islands

One third of the membership list of Ebell Third Travel section, entertained the remaining two thirds at luncheon Friday, seating them at prettily arranged tables in the section room. The hostess group comprised Mesdames W. W. Kaye, A. N. Cox, T. R. Trawick, M. C. Ford, A. M. Gardner, C. H. Jeffrey, Albert Bowen, Herbert Krahling, J. L. Stephenson, O. C. Catland, Miss Jennie Burnett and Miss Blanche Collings.

Mrs. F. P. Nickey conducted the business meeting at which officers elected were Mrs. S. A. Moore, leader; Mrs. S. A. Jones, assistant leader; Mrs. C. H. Jeffrey, secretary-treasurer. Plans were made for the social meeting in June in Hotel Laguna.

Three guests, Mrs. Paul Jones of Los Angeles, Miss Lois Read and Mrs. J. L. McBride, shared with the section, an outstanding program in which Mrs. J. B. Bichan talked on her trip to the Orkney Islands, a spot far removed from ordinary lanes of travel. In traveling to the former home of her late husband, there to visit his people, Mrs. Bichan traversed the British Isles, including the Scottish highlands, from the northernmost point of which she flew by plane to Kirkwall in the Orkney Island group.

She described the peaceful simplicity of the mode of life; the quaint charm of the villages and their old stone houses; the grandeur of scenery with its many waterfalls; the dominant Gaelic of the mother tongue; historic monuments including that to "K. of K." and one to the Covenanters, and finally of operations in the vessel sunk in Scapa Flow during the World War.

Travelers of the section felt that it was one of their finest programs of the year.

Two-Table Club

One of the most important guests at the Friday night meeting of the bridge playing group, was one of whom it might truthfully be said he doesn't know one card from another. For he was Master Jerry Babylon, four-months-old son of Mrs. Henry Babylon, hostess to her Two-Table club, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Black, 1002 North Flower street.

The small Jerry was far more important than bridge during the short interval that his proud young mother permitted him to be awake among her guests. Later the group turned to bridge and entertainment, and Miss Helen Kubitz, scoring high, Mrs. Roy Yoder, second, and Miss Helen Kubitz, low, won pretty prizes.

To conclude the evening, Mrs. Babylon, assisted by her mother, served a sweets course at the linen-spread card tables. Her guests comprised Mrs. John Bruns, Mrs. Roy Yoder, Mrs. William Abrahamson, Mrs. Rhea Faust, of Hollywood; Mrs. Robert Walker, and the Mesdames Helen Kohler, Helen Kubitz and Helen Lutz.

Honoring Newcomer

Opportunity to meet Mrs. Ralph Fell, a newcomer to this city, was accorded a group of guests at a luncheon given Friday afternoon when Mrs. Leslie Pearson was hostess in her home, 1029 West Second street. Mr. and Mrs. Fell, former residents of Banning, have taken up residence at the Palma apartments.

For her party, Mrs. Pearson carried out a yellow and lavender color scheme, through the use of flowers, candles, nut cups and other appointments. Prizes in contract bridge were won by Mrs. J. F. Jacoby and Mrs. C. G. Lippincott, and Mrs. C. G. Lippincott, who held first and second high scores. Mrs. Ferial Reid won a floating award.

In the group with Mrs. Fell and the hostess were Mesdames J. F. Jacoby, O. P. Turner, C. G. Lippincott, Ferial Reid, Ernest Machander, all of this city; Kenneth King and Ralph H. Johnston, Orange.

Bridge Club Event

Bridge club members were guests of Mrs. Leslie Pearson Thursday afternoon when she entertained in her home, 1029 West Second street. ## Local Couple Exchange Vows at Quiet Ceremony

Miss Thelma Schorle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schorle, 615 North Pacific avenue, and Woodrow Easterly, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Easterly, 1024 North Sycamore street, were married at a quiet ceremony Saturday evening in Santa Ana Wedding chapel.

Five o'clock was the hour for the ceremony, which was read by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss. The bride wore a grey tailored costume with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas. Her sister, Miss June Schorle, was maid of honor. Watson Easterly was best man.

The four young people were joined by relatives and close friends for a dinner party in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. L. F. Botts in this city. Fifty guests were present for a reception at 8 o'clock in the H. C. Johnson home, 821 South Flower street.

The newly-married couple will spend their honeymoon in Sequoia and Yosemite National parks. ## Originality Expressed In Party Honoring Teaching Staff

Invitations issued to teachers of the McKinley school staff to a party late the past week in the home of Mrs. J. A. Gajski, 1015 West Sixth street, were in the form of a court summons, charging each teacher with a minor misdemeanor.

When guests assembled in response to the summons, they found everything in readiness for serving an elaborate four-course dinner as a preliminary to their "trial." While flowers were used effectively throughout the home, the rose motif of the dinner tables was especially striking, and included rosebuds placed on actual rose sprays. A corsage bouquet for each guest added charm to the tables.

Following the dinner hour, Mrs. Hugh Whisenand as judge, created the proper court room atmosphere with her gavel and called the case of McKinley School Teachers versus McKinley P.-T. A. with Mrs. M. Mitchell as prosecuting attorney. After the evidence was all submitted, "Judge" Whisenand pronounced sentence in the form of a clever poem written by Mrs. Elmer Christenson, delegating to each teacher, a special entertainment stunt or punishment in the form of removing dishes from the tables.

This interval closed with the presentation to Miss Lana Brokaw of a handsome gift from the association executive board. Miss Brokaw is retiring after many years' service with Santa Ana schools. Court whist was played for the remainder of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Donna Ward and Miss Brokaw.

Teachers so pleasantly entertained were Miss Mary Andrews, Mrs. Ruby Drake, Mrs. Sadie Matice, Miss Emma Hasty, Miss Lana Brokaw, Miss Beryl Hatch, Miss Gertrude Potts, Mrs. Donna Ward, Miss Kay Blank, Miss Helen Bower and Miss Clarice Marks.

Executive board hostesses were Mesdames Herbert Hildebrand, Paul Webb, J. A. Gajski, Elmer Christenson, George Krook, J. F. McWilliams, Albert Garthe, John State, Charles Clark, Henry Delgado, Hugh Whisenand and F. H. Mitchell.

Flower Arrangements Are Discussed For Garden Section

With Mrs. Thomas Hosmer, of Laguna Beach, as guest speaker, members of Ebell Garden section held their monthly meeting last week with interest, her views on formal and informal flower arrangements for the home when they lunched late last week, with a sextet of hostesses in Ebell clubhouse.

Paul, president of Orange County Garden club, continued the pleasant custom she has introduced in the section, of discussing new flower specimens (of which she showed); telling what the florists are producing; suggesting garden needs, and telling what to plant now in preparation for the general county flower show to be held in the autumn.

Mrs. Mark Lacy conducted the business meeting during which new officers were named as Mrs. J. T. Wilson, leader; Mrs. George Raymer, assistant leader; Mrs. P. S. Virgin, secretary, and Mrs. Clyde Bach, treasurer.

Two new members, Mrs. C. H. Jeffrey and Mrs. Roy Browning, were present to share with those of longer standing, the interesting features of the day. Mrs. Hosmer had provided flowers and their appropriate containers, to illustrate informal groupings for breakfast room, for boudoirs and for small luncheons, and for the more formal arrangements for drawing rooms, living rooms and for formal dinners.

Talks on flower arrangement are to be exemplified at the June meeting, when each member will illustrate her own idea of some appropriate grouping with a prize to reward the one with the best and most original treatment.

THE TINYMITES

Story by HAL COCHRAN Artwork by GEORGE SCARBO

"Away we go, we know not where, and neither do we really care," said Coppy. "This is heaps of fun, and we are safe and sound. I like to ride up in the breeze, just as we're doing, much at ease. As long as fate is kind, we will not topple to the ground."

"Say, that would make a dandy song, if with a tune it went along," said Goldy. "I will sing it once. Then you all can join in."

She put the words to music and the bunch agreed it sounded grand. "All right, now," Dotty shouted. "All together, let's begin!"

Then music seemed to fill the air. In fact it gave the birds a scare. They started dipping up and down. The Tines stopped their song.

"Hey, this is awful," Duncie cried. "Why must the four birds spoil our ride? I guess they didn't like our music. Now we are in wrong."

One of the birds said, "No you're not. We really thought your music hot, but we are getting set to let you drop down to the sea."

"If you will note, it's right below. With us no farther will you go." Poor Duncie shivered just a bit and shouted, "Wee me!"

LOT OWNERS GET NOTICE ON WEEDS

LAGUNA BEACH, May 25.—Notice has been served by publication calling on all lot owners to clear away weeds and debris from vacant lots before June 15, after which such lots will be declared public fire menaces, and will be burned over by the fire department, the cost of the work being charged against the owners of record.

Such cost of cleaning, it is announced, will constitute a lien against the property. In 1935, many lots left uncleared by the owners were burned over by Fire Chief P. J. Bushman and his force of 20 firemen. Weed growth has been exceptionally heavy this year.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

"Well, what's the reason, Mr. Bird?" said little Goldy. "I have heard of lots and lots of crazy stunts, but this is worst of all."

"Why can't you land us somewhere near, where there'll not be a thing to fear? What fun will we get out of it if you just let us fall?"

"Don't worry! You'll have fun, all right, so don't you fret about your plight," a bird said. Then the Tines dropped, and all began to rave. They didn't know what thrill they'd meet, but they all hung onto

One familiar old Southern melody or Negro spiritual followed another, and guests felt that hospitality and music were truly of the Dixieland flavor. We can give you the very best of these various tools at practically "catalog" prices. And don't forget to use some German Peat Moss in your garden. One good trial and you're convinced. ## WE DON'T BELIEVE IT

There are just plenty of interesting things about this acre of ground. It is in the city, in a good district. There are 20 walnut trees, 7 apricots, a lemon, an orange, lemon, fig, persimmon, and other fruit trees. It has a 4-bedroom house and other out-houses and garages. I haven't seen it and can't believe it because the price on the listing says only $4000. Let's look it over.

GRAVY DAYS ARE COMING BACK

Right here in Orange County, your home and mine, is the center of that area, favored over all others, as the most ideal spot in all the world for joyful living. This, world travelers admit without reservation—we admit it ourselves. Within a few minutes from any part of this perfect little county we can reach the shores of the blue Pacific, the outdoor paradise of the Western Coast. Within a few minutes we are in the mountains over perfect highways. The metropolitan centers are at our door and we suffer none of the inconveniences found there. We grow the most profitable and acceptable crops known to agriculture. Our youth attend, without cost, the finest educational institutions known in a state that prides itself on such institutions. Romance is here. You can hear the clink of castanets and the shouts of the Dons ringing down through the years.

We recognize these facts. We know this will be the most thickly populated territory on earth in a few years. We realize that the people of America will crowd this wonderful country, and would do so now if they could but sell out and come. But for the moment we have been blinded by a temporary depression. We have forgotten the "rosy" times just past and those to come. We have grown panicky, startled, afraid. Have we too, joined the mob?

We need to do something about it, individually. We need to dream dreams and make them come true. It was in 1851 that the city of Los Angeles received her charter. Her citizens began dreaming. For many long years the country laughed at the dreams of Los Angeles. But a few years ago portions of our own state laughed. Remember when they dreamed of a great harbor? And do you remember that they developed it from mud flats to become the second greatest harbor in the Nation? These same dreams capitalized our sunshine, the mountains, the desert, the sea, and our romantic past into the largest city on the west coast of the Americas in a few short years. This city, this harbor, is but a few short minutes from any part of Orange County. Actually, we are a part of it.

We need to dig our toes into Orange County—NOW. We want you to know that today homes, ranches, building sites, are on the bargain counter for the last time in a generation. You may safely, sensibly, unhurriedly, select your permanent place in Orange County's sun today, probably not so safely tomorrow. Why? Gravy days are coming back! This week it was, we were offered a membership in a country club for $5.00. That's the sign. Promoters are coming out of hibernation. Soon again there will be no vacant store buildings. Soon you will see the juggernaut busses parked at street corners, sucker traps set for subdividers. Soon you will see page advertisements reoffering independence to be won at such places as Runnymede, Girard, Romola, and what have you. Again are you to see striped pants, checkered vests, and yellow neckties. And as for office buildings, the tenants of yesteryear will have returned, and along with them their schemes and dreams.

Thank God for the depressions. We hope things stay bad, and we mean BAD, until you own your home in Orange County, for tomorrow the swamis, soothsayers, phoney evangelists, pep talkers, health lecturers, grafters, snoopers, and bogus building and loan operators, will have returned to take your money. It takes good men to survive bad times. Julian wouldn't be able to sell a million dollars worth of stock in a sandwich machine. Imagine people fighting to pay money for an interest in a tin can to hold sandwiches! Perhaps the newspapers wouldn't be so willing to print the lurid promotion scheme advertisements—now. But they will, for Gravy days are coming back.

Do something NOW, before these gentry get your savings. Dig your toes into the lands of Orange County.

THE CURSE OF DEBTS

Few people realize the results, on society as a whole, from debts. The real cause of plowing under the cotton, killing the pigs and paying people for doing nothing, is the result of debts because people have obligated themselves to pay back the food, shelter and indulgences that they have borrowed either to be used to make a profit on or to consume before they had produced it. When these debts are borrowed and a dollar is used as a measure of the amount borrowed and this dollar measure is allowed to change rapidly because of debts and lack of confidence, then society becomes bewildered and we even go so far as to do what we are doing now—paying people to keep land idle and trying to keep people from work producing real wealth that people want and need in order to keep from changing this measuring stick—the dollar.

Debts are the cause of our present trouble. People who are over ambitious, over optimistic and possibly somewhat egotistic, will promise to pay abnormal rates of reward if people will only loan them money. They invariably promise to pay much more than they can produce. Sooner or later, they become involved or discouraged and the country as a whole has to, figuratively speaking, go through bankruptcy in order to clear the slate for those people who have gone into debt. It would be much better to allow them to repudiate their obligations than to try to make wealth scarce and lower the standard of living of all the people in order to keep money prices up so that they can pay their debts on the same basis they borrowed them. Many of them, however, can never pay their obligations because they have been entirely too optimistic in their desire to get possession of wealth on which to make a profit. Their motive often has been to get something for nothing, or with very little work. Yet, we are not willing to let them pay their penalty and are willing to make all other honest people suffer by making things scarce in order to help them out. It truly seems that Society is largely run for the convenience of people in debt.

It takes exceptionally good management to make anything produce, on a net basis, over one, two or three percent a year. When a man promises to give three, four, five, six or seven percent, he has a very strong chance of losing.

The way debts increase, when put on interest, is most vividly explained in the great Italian, Pareto's book, "The Mind and Society." He says that if a centime (one-fourth of a cent reduced to English money) were put on interest at 4% compound interest 1000 years ago, it would take gold, at $20.67 an ounce, in the amount required equal to the weight of thirty-one earths.

So, when you borrow money and offer to pay interest, remember you have an obligation that is hard to meet—interest grows rapidly. You had better keep out of debt. No wonder the early Christians believed that usury was wicked—it is so dangerous, and so likely to lead people into difficulty.

MOTORIST PSYCHOLOGY

Reduce the causes of most automobile accidents to psychological factors, scientists tell us, and the real trouble can be traced to "inattention, lack of judgment, recklessness, thoughtlessness, love of speed, slow wits, or excitement."

It makes motoring on a busy highway these days a dangerous business. What to do about it? The psychologists offer several suggestions.

They would, for one thing, prohibit some persons from driving at night because of peculiarities of vision; they would require others with high accident records to practice driving under supervision of a trained "specialist in accident prevention;" and, finally, they would inaugurate schools for drivers, attendance at which would be compulsory for offenders and ultimately required for obtaining a license. At the same time, these psychologists would modernize traffic regulations in accordance with the findings of scientific research.

Their suggestions merit a trial.

POPULAR OPERA

New York's Metropolitan Opera Company puts on a popular-priced season and enjoys a sell-out. Presenting operas without benefit of top hats, tail coats, or ermine cloaks, at prices which the ordinary mortal can afford, is something new for the august Metropolitan; but apparently it pays.

And it occurs to us that the salvation of grand opera in America might be founded along just such lines. The ordinary mortal passes it by with serene unconcern. And why? Chiefly, we suspect, because "society" has made opera a three-ring circus of its own. It has stamped it as a boiled-shirt affair which one attends, not so much for the sake of listening to good music and enjoying a good dramatic spectacle, as to display one's fine clothes and one's lofty social standing.

The ordinary American is not tone-deaf. Give him opera without the hifalutin' trimmings and he might support it very enthusiastically.

MINIMUM AGGREGATE SACRIFICE

If the Preamble of the Constitution means what it says that, "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, etc.," means that 'we' includes all of us, both rich and poor, then our laws, as to sharing government expense and the fruits of good government, should reduce the aggregate sacrifice required to support the government to the minimum, OVER A LONG PERIOD OF YEARS.

If the minimum aggregate sacrifice principle is adopted only for the moment, then, of course, the minimum aggregate sacrifice will be the least by supporting the government from capital—the seed corn—and, thus, leaving more to be used and enjoyed during the current year by all the people. This is what we have been doing for the past 22 years. We are now reaping the fruits of the theory of minimum aggregate sacrifice for the moment, instead of the minimum aggregate sacrifice over a long period of years.

If the minimum aggregate sacrifice theory, over a long period of years, is sound, then we must share government expenses by compelling those who consume personally large amounts of wealth, from which they get small benefit, and by taking small amounts of wealth from those who consume little and get large benefits from their consumption. By this method, we are adopting the principle of the minimum aggregate sacrifice of all the people and we are not in any way increasing the minimum-aggregate sacrifice in later years.

This theory of minimum aggregate sacrifice over a long period of years can best be accomplished by a graduated tax on personal consumption and by a graduated tax on income resulting from unearned increment and from large income resulting from the lending of money. This, over a long period of years, will reduce the sacrifice of all the people to the minimum. This, to our mind, is the basis on which taxes should be levied.

Give The Voter A Break

Editor's Note:—The following is the ninety-first broadcast of the Voice of the Crusaders, delivered Monday evening, May 4, 1936, by Fred G. Clark, national commander.

When this democracy was founded, its originators had great faith in the success of the Republic. Their faith however was predicated on the thorough knowledge that voters would have on all important controversial issues when they cast their ballots. The framers of the Constitution believed that an overwhelming majority of men and women wanted to be square. They had no doubt about the ability of our people to govern themselves successfully, provided detailed information concerning proposed governmental policies and political principles was made available to every voter. But all of the founders of this Republic realized that open debate between all parties and all political candidates was necessary to the fullest degree if the voter was to cast a constructive ballot. The framers of the Constitution were more worried about lack of factual information being disseminated by any and all political factions than fearful that one party would distribute too much information. And here lies a much debated contention.

Under our two party system, both parties have a tremendous public obligation. When we try a man, we pick a jury of twelve people. These men in the jury box have the responsibility of seeing that justice is done, not only for the accused but for the state. The lawyer for the defense and the prosecutor for the state bring out in open court every detailed fact either helping the defense or aiding the prosecution. Trials are held so that all the facts in the case can be brought to the surface and a fair judgment rendered by the jury. Now is it wrong to have all facts brought to the surface in a trial? Could a jury of twelve men give justice to either the state or the defendant if only one side were allowed to tell its story or if both sides were only permitted to bring out—let us say—fifty dollars worth of factual information? No one would say so. And the same is true of political questions and political parties, since the security of this nation depends on how well informed the voter is.

Summing up, we must come to this inescapable conclusion. The coming election will be the most factful one in the history of this Republic. No one questions that. We are going to decide whether the home rule principle advocated by Thomas Jefferson were wrong or if the fundamental principles of true democracy were right when granted and are still right now. We are going to decide whether local rule or centralized bureaucratic federal power shall govern the future destiny of this country. Our people must decide whether bureaus, controlled by men who are not elected by the people, shall be expanded or restricted. We are going to the polls to determine whether the government is an empire, as it must be in a true democracy, or becomes an operating and regimenting power dangerously flirting with the policies of the dictator-ridden countries of Europe. These are the main issues of this election and it is the first time in the entire history of our Republic when issues of this nature have been brought up in a national campaign. Never before has a political party criticized either the Constitution or the supreme court. Therefore, The Crusaders go on record as demanding fact finding and truth disseminating activity by all conscientious Americans on a greater scale than ever before known in this country. There will be forty-four million voters. How much money and how much effort will it take to give these forty-four million people an honorable chance to familiarize themselves with the issues at stake? Can the wildest individual claim that a voter's soul can be purchased with fifty cents of printed material or argument over a radio?

Let's see where this would bring us in a great American campaign. . . . And The Crusaders are now talking to both parties alike, without prejudice to either. Fifty cents per voter for each major party would mean one dollar that both parties would spend to propagate their information before each voter, or a complete campaign expenditure of forty-four million dollars... or twenty-two million dollars... for each party. In other words if the Democratic and Republican parties spent forty-four million dollars in this campaign it could not be considered a slush fund nor could it be termed an unreasonable expenditure. And yet you know and we know that both parties together will not spend one-quarter of that amount, and the amount both parties intend to spend is not sufficient to give the voter a fair run for his money.

It is true that there are two hundred thousand New Dealers on the payroll not in the civil service who will actually be political campaigners. They can be fired any moment since they are not protected by the civil service and these two hundred thousand men are going to talk and act to hold their jobs. The printing presses at Washington have sent out and are sending out millions of explanatory pamphlets on the New Deal. What are the anti-new dealers going to put up to meet these arguments in such a thorough manner that the voter will have as logical a reason for opposing New Deal policies as they have for accepting them? And, if neither party is not going to thoroughly debate these issues, then scores of patriotic organizations must shoulder the responsibility of doing so. This campaign should be waged on industrial and agricultural economics and the campaigns who indulge in personalities should be ruled out of the game by public sentiment. Every voter should know the truth. He should have the God-given opportunity to know why he is voting for or against a certain principle.

Millions of people today are willing to vote for complete government control over industry on the theory that the machine age has created a condition where many millions of people will be idle; whereas those who still believe in home rule advance the argument that the machine age has created more employment—not less! If we are going to have millions of idle when we return to normal, we must have centralized federal control bordering on actual dictatorship. No one doubts that. But if, under normal conditions, practically all of our people can be gainfully employed under home rule and true individual freedom, then the last thing on earth we want is government control or anything that borders on dictatorship. Now there is only one way the people can justly decide this issue. They must know the facts—all of the facts. We have not reached the stage in human development where people are mind readers. Both political parties should be willing and eager that both the opposition and the defense get their views fully before all of the people.

The tariff, both on farm products and industrial output, will be another great issue and, before we can decide honestly and justly regarding the necessity or the folly of tariff, we must become thoroughly acquainted with the wages paid and the standard of living existing in the countries that compete with us. A large measure of our future prosperity depends on full information on all tariff questions. We have an agricultural problem which city people in the main know little about. Well—they should know about it. Every voter should know what the world's markets are. They should know how these markets were supplied in past years and what the possibilities are for future years.

The same applies to the supreme court. This court has always been considered the Rock of Gibraltar of the Republic of the United States. There is a tremendous difference of opinion regarding its functions and its limitations and every fact regarding the supreme court should be brought out in the most minute detail possible.

The same applies to the Constitution. Millions of people believe that the Constitution is the greatest human document, granting the widest protection to human freedom ever devised by mortal man. Millions now claim that the Constitution is all a mistake... that the trend away from the Constitution, such as we have witnessed in Europe in the last seventeen years is the best idea. Maybe they are right. Maybe the people who believe in bureaucratic control and the limitation of states rights are the wise ones. But, before we change from a system that has made the United States the envy and admiration of the world, where labor enjoys the highest standard of living known to civilized man, we should know all the facts in the case. Before we give up liberty on the theory that by doing so we gain greater security, we should be mighty sure that we don't lose both.

Confiscatory taxation is a real threat to our free people. Maybe it's necessary but, if it is, the public ought to know why... not because one man says it's necessary but because after thorough debate, the truth points to the actual necessity of confiscatory taxes.

Yes, the public should get all the facts this year and every year. American-rich or poor—should be proud of every contribution—large or small—he makes for the benefit of disseminating what he thinks is the truth to the American people on all vital subjects.

We offer our lives when this country is invaded by an enemy army. Why should we be unwilling to make the sacrifice of a

DEFINING THE ABUNDANT LIFE

The phrase "the abundant life" was first suggested, as far as I know, in the sentence in the New Testament in which Jesus of Nazareth said: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

He was, I assume, speaking primarily of the spiritual content of life, the values that lift life above the brute level and give it radiance and meaning.

In our generation we do not severely separate the spiritual and the secular, but insist rather that they may rightly and profitably be interlocked.

Specifically we think that the spiritual values of men's lives are helped rather than hindered by a decent living standard and a sustaining sense of economic security.

It is this latter meaning that is behind the phrase—the abundant life—as currently used in political discussion.

A danger lurks in the political definition of the abundant life.

The danger is this: We may concentrate so wholly upon the economics of the abundant life that we will be willing to resort to types of national control and planning that cannot succeed save by the utter destruction of those personal liberties associated with self-government.

This is not a fantastic fear. As I watch the run of events I am increasingly impressed by the extent to which erstwhile liberals seem relatively uninterested in the preservation of these deeper liberties of the spirit, without which great living is impossible, if they can only put over certain desirable economic benefits for the masses.

If we are to have the abundant life for the masses, we must find ways to safeguard these "spiritual" values along with our achievement of economic well-being and security.

A PLEASANT PLACE

The best work is done with tools do her perfect work before it can be presented.

Teach the older children to sit quietly in the dim church, to go into the quiet woods, to seek the quiet of their own rooms and search their own hearts for the truth that is in them before telling the world the way it should go. This is on old world, and Truth is no stranger to it. In the silent reaches it keeps its appointed path. Somewhere in that stillness the Truth dwells. In stillness, in meditation, it is to be found.

do her perfect work before it can be presented.

My cousin Artie stayed at my house all night last night, and after supper pop was smoking to himself in his private chair and me and Artie was talking and arguing, me saying, "Aw, you don't know what you're talking about and never did." Well you don't know what other people are talking about and never will, Artie said. If you had twice as much brains you still wouldn't have half what you need to be one tenth as smart as me, he said, and I said, "O is that so, well you can never have an operation on your brain because there's no mikerscope strong enough to find it, so don't worry about a operation no matter how much you need it."

Here, here, is that the way for first cousins to address each other? pop said, and I said, Sure, pop, that's a way me and Artie generally always talk.

Then it's time to get civilized, so suppose you start rise now by paying each other a few compliments, even if you don't mean them, in other words practice a little politeness, which is one of the finest flowers of civilization, pop said.

Which we started to, me saying to Artie, "O well, guess you're not so dumb. I guess if the 10 dumbest people in the world was lined up with you among them, I guess you might not even get picked out for being the worst, I said, and Artie said, Thanks for the compliment, and now that I come to think of it you're not so dumb either. I bet if you ever took an examination to get in a half witted kindergarten, I bet you'd pass it as easy as pie, if you copied off of the other kids papers, he said.

Much obliged and now I'll tell you how smart you really are, I said, and pop said, Don't bother, after all there's such a thing as pushing politeness too far and I think you've done that. Now pipe down and play something quietly or else go to bed, he said.

few dollars or a few thousand dollars to make it possible to intelligently decide issues on which wrong judgment may do us more harm than all the enemy armies could possibly do. If this country is worth the sacrifice of lives, it is certainly worth the sacrifice of money. Which side of the fence you are on is not the great question. How ably you defend your position is the meat of the argument.

The Crusaders will keep right on disseminating all the possible facts and information over the air. We seek the truth, believing that truth alone will solve our problems. The Crusaders attempt to clarify issues—not to fight political parties. But we believe the people of the United States to be the fairest jury in the world. We must have facts... widespread facts to place in the hands of the jury which has the power next November of sending true democracy to the electric chair or of abolishing Constitutional Liberty from the crimes now charged against it. The Crusaders will aid the defense... but it is going to take money—research and vigorous effort—and lots of it! We are making a special plea for business men and those who are financially secure to do their part. If the Black Senate Investigating committee proved anything, it was that a much too large proportion of contributions to The Crusaders has come from poor but patriotic people. A review of thousands of letters received in The Crusaders offices would make a financially secure person blush with shame. I promise the thousands of you who have sent in dimes, quarters and dollars that the officers of The Crusaders will make a determined effort to get those who can contribute substantial amounts to match your support proportionately. If the more fortunate men and women will do their part now, The Crusaders will put up a strong defense in the trial of American institutions.
